APPENDIX.

STATUTES respecting the Relief and Regulation of the POOR.

[5 Edw. Cap. 4.]

An Act touching divers Orders for Artificers, Labourers, Servants of Husbandry and Apprentices.

ALTHOUGH there remain and stand in force presently, a great number of acts and statutes concerning the retaining, departing, wages and orders of apprentices, servants, and labourers, as well in husbandry, as in divers other arts, mysteries and occupations; (2) yet partly for the imperfection and contrariety that is found, and doth appear in sundry of the said laws, and for the variety and number of them; (3) and chiefly for that the wages and allowances limited and rated in many of the said statutes, are in divers places too small, and not answerable to this time, respecting the advancement of prices of all things belonging to the said servants and labourers; (4) the said laws cannot conveniently, without the great grief and burden of the poor labourer, and hired man, be put in good and due execution; (5) and as the said several acts and statutes were, at the time of the making of them, thought to be very good and beneficial to the commonwealth of this realm (as divers of them are), so if the substance of as many of the said laws as are meet to be continued, shall be digested and reduced into one sole law and statute, and in the same an uniform order prescribed and limited concerning the wages and other orders for apprentices, servants, and labourers,

A repeal of so much of former statutes as concerns the hiring, keeping, departing, working or order of servants, labourers, &c. And a declaration who shall be compellible to serve in handicrafts, and who in husbandry, and their several duties.

there is good hope that it will come to pass, that the same law (being duly executed) should banish idleness, advance husbandry, and yield unto the hired person, both in the time of scarcity and in the time of plenty, a convenient proportion of wages.

Acts repealed.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this present parliament, That as much of all the estatutes heretofore made, and every branch of them, as touch or concern the hiring, keeping, departing, working, wages, or order of servants, workmen, artificers, apprentices, and labourers, or any of them, and the penalties and forfeitures concerning the same shall be, from and after the last day of September next ensuing, repealed and utterly void and of none effect, (2) and that all the said statutes, and every branch thereof, or any matter contained in them, and not repealed by this statute, shall remain and be in full force and effect; any thing in this statute to the contrary notwithstanding.

“ WHEREAS the necessity, number, and continual increase of the poor, not only within the cities of London and Westminster, with the liberties of each of them, but also through the whole kingdom of England and dominion of Wales, is very great and exceeding burthensome, being occasioned by reason of some defects in the law concerning the settling of the poor, and for want of a due provision of the regulations of relief and employment in such parishes or places where they are legally settled, which doth enforce many to turn incorrigible rogues, and others to perish for want, together with the neglect of the faithful execution of such laws and statutes as have formerly been made for the apprehending of rogues and vagabonds, and for the good of the poor;” (2) for remedy whereof, and for the preventing the perishing of any of the poor, whether young or old, for want of such supplies as are necessary, may it please your most excellent Majesty, that it may be enacted, (3) and be it enacted by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and the commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That whereas by reason of some defects in the law, poor people are not restrained from going from one parish to another, and therefore do endeavour to settle themselves in those parishes where there is the best stock, the largest commons or wastes to build cottages, and the most woods for them to burn and destroy; and when they have consumed it, then to another parish, and at last become rogues and vagabonds, to the great discouragement of parishes to provide stocks, where it is liable to be devoured by strangers; (4) be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, that it shall and may be lawful, upon complaint made by the churchwardens or overseers of the poor of any parish, to any justice of peace, within forty days after any such person or persons coming so to settle as aforesaid, in any tenement under the yearly value of ten pounds, for any two justices of the peace, whereof one to be of the quorum, of the division where any person or persons that are likely to be chargeable to the parish shall come to inhabit, by their war-

XI. "And whereas many inconveniences do daily arise in cities, towns corporate, and parishes, where the inhabitants are very numerous, by reason of the unlimited power of the churchwardens and overseers of the poor, who do frequently, upon frivolous pretences (but chiefly for their own private ends), give relief to what persons and number they think fit; and such persons, being entered into the collection bill, do become after that a great charge to the parish, notwithstanding the occasion or pretence of their receiving collection oftentimes ceases, by which means the rates of the poor are daily increased, contrary to the true intent of a statute made in the forty-third year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, intituled, "An Act for the relief of the poor:" for remedying of which, and preventing the like abuses for the future, be it further enacted, That from and after the first day of March, there shall be provided and kept in every parish (at the charge of the same parish), a book or books, wherein the names of all such persons who do or may receive collection shall be registered, with the day and year when they were first admitted to have relief, and the occasion which brought them under that necessity: and that yearly in Easter week (or as often as it shall be thought convenient) the parishioners of every parish shall meet in their vestry, or other usual place of meeting in the same parish, before whom the said book shall be produced, and all persons receiving collection to be called over, and the reasons of their taking relief examined, and a new list made and entered, of such persons as they shall think fit and allow to receive collection, and that no other person be allowed to have or receive collection at the charge of the said parish, but by authority under the hand of the justice of peace residing within such parish, or (if none be there dwelling) in the parts near or next adjoining, or by order of the the justices in their respective quarter sessions, except in cases of pestilential diseases, plague, or small-pox, for and in respect of such families only as are or shall be therewith infected.

Further provisions relating hereto, 9 Geo. 1. c. 7 s. 2.

XII. " And whereas many churchwardens and overseers of the poor, and other persons intrusted to receive collections for the poor, and other public monies relating to the churches and parishes whereunto they do belong, do often mispend the said monies, and take the same to their own use, to the great prejudice of such parishes, and the poor and other inhabitants thereof; and because that many times the judges, when actions are brought against such churchwardens and overseers to recover the monies so mispent, taken, or misapplied by the persons aforesaid, refuse to admit the parishioners to be witnesses in such cases, who are the only persons that can make proof thereof:" wherefore, to prevent all such evil and deceitful practices of churchwardens and overseers, and other persons, be it enacted and declared, That in all actions to be brought in their Majesty's courts of record at Westminster, or at the assizes, for the recovery of any sum or sums of money so mispent or taken by churchwardens or overseers of the poor, the evidence of the parishioners, or any of them, other than of such as receive alms, or any pension or gift out of such collections or public monies of such parish or parishes respectively, whereof the defendant or defendants is or are inhabitant or inhabitants, shall be taken and admitted in all such cases in the courts aforesaid; any custom, rule, order, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Parishioners, except alms men, may be evidence against churchwardens, &c. of their mispending the poor's money.

II. And

II.: And to the end that the money raised only for the relief of such as are as well impotent as poor, may not be misapplied and consumed by the idle, sturdy, and disorderly beggars; Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That every such person as from and after the first day of September, one thousand six hundred ninety-seven, shall be upon the collection, and receive relief of any parish or place, and the wife and children of any such person cohabiting in the same house (such child only excepted, as shall be by the churchwardens and overseers of the poor permitted to live at home, in order to have the care of and attend an impotent and helpless parent) shall, upon the shoulder of the right sleeve of the uppermost garment of every such person, in an open and visible manner, wear such badge or mark as is hereinafter mentioned and expressed, that is to say, a large Roman P. together with the first letter of the name of the parish or place whereof such poor person is an inhabitant, cut either in red or blue cloth, as by the churchwardens and overseers of the poor it shall be directed and appointed; and if any such poor person shall at any time neglect or refuse to wear such badge or mark as aforesaid, and in manner as aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for any justice of the peace of the county, city, liberty, or town corporate, where any such offence shall be committed, upon complaint to him for that purpose to be made, to punish every such offender for every such offence, either by ordering of his or her relief or usual allowance on the collection to be abridged, suspended or withdrawn, or otherwise by committing of any such offender to the house of correction, there to be whipt and kept to hard labour, for any number of days not exceeding one-and-twenty, as to the said justice, in his discretion it shall seem most meet; and if any such churchwarden or overseer of the poor, from and after the said first day of September, shall relieve any such poor person not having and wearing such badge or mark as aforesaid, being thereof convicted, upon the oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses, before any justice of the peace of the county, city, liberty, or town corporate, where any such offence shall be committed, shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of twenty shillings, to be levied by distress and sale of the goods of every such offender, by warrant under the hand and seal of any such justice, one moiety thereof to be to the Justices, on appeal to them concerning the settlement of any poor person, to award costs.

III. And for the more effectual preventing of vexatious removals and frivolous appeals, Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the justices of the peace of any county or riding, in their general or quarter sessions of the peace, upon any appeal before them there to be had, for and concerning the settlement of any poor person, or upon any proof before them there to be made, of notice of any such appeal to have been given by the proper officer to the churchwardens or overseers of the poor of any parish or place (though they did not afterwards prosecute such appeal) shall, at the same quarter sessions, award and order to the party for whom and in whose behalf such appeal shall be determined, or to whom such notice did appear to have been given, as aforesaid, such costs and charges in the law, as by the said justices in their discretion shall be thought most reasonable and just, to be paid by the churchwardens, overseers of the poor, or any other person, against whom such appeal shall be determined, or by the person that did give such notice, as aforesaid; and if the person ordered to pay such costs shall happen to live in any county, riding, city, or town corporate, or elsewhere, out of the jurisdiction of the said court, it shall and may be lawful for any justice of the peace of the county, riding, city, liberty, or town corporate, wherein such person shall inhabit, and every such justice is hereby required, upon request to him for that purpose to be made, and a true copy of the order for the payment of such costs produced, and proved by some credible witness upon oath, by warrant under his hand and seal, to cause the money mentioned in that order to be levied by distress and sale of the goods of the person that is ordered and ought to pay the same; and if no such distress can or may be had, to commit such person to the common gaol of that county or liberty, there to remain by the space of twenty days.

if no distress, offender to be committed to gaol.

Single persons not deemed to have a good settlement in any parish under one year's continuance.

IV. "And whereas some doubts have arisen touching the settlement of unmarried persons not having child or children, lawfully hired into any parish or town for one year;" Be it therefore enacted and declared by the authority aforesaid, That no such person so hired as aforesaid, shall be adjudged or deemed to have a good settlement in any such parish or township, township, unless such person shall continue and abide in the same service during the space of one whole year.

V. And whereas by an act made in the three-and-fortieth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled An act for the relief of the poor, it is amongst other things enacted, That it shall be lawful for the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of any parish, or the greater part of them, by the assent of two justices of the peace, whereof one to be of the quorum, to bind poor children apprentices, where they shall see convenient; but there being doubts whether the persons to whom such children are to be bound, are compellable to receive such children as apprentices, that law hath failed of its due execution; Be it therefore enacted and declared by the authority aforesaid, That where any poor children shall be appointed to be bound apprentices pursuant to the said act, the person or persons to whom they are so appointed to be bound, shall receive and provide for them, according to the indenture signed and confirmed by the two justices of the peace, and also execute the other part of the said indentures, and if he or she shall refuse so to do, oath being thereof made by one of the churchwardens or overseers of the poor, before any two of the justices of the peace for that county, liberty, or riding, he or she for every such offence, shall forfeit the sum of ten pounds, to be levied by distress and sale of the goods of any such offender, by warrant under the hands and seals of the said justices, the same to be applied to the use of the poor of that parish or place where such offence was committed; saving always to the person, to whom any poor child shall be appointed to be bound an apprentice, as aforesaid, if he or she shall think themselves aggrieved thereby, his or her appeal to the next general or quarter sessions of the peace for that county or riding, whose order therein shall be final, and conclude all parties.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That from and after the first day of May, one thousand six hundred ninety-seven, the appeal against any order for the removal of any poor person from out of any parish, township, or place; shall be heard, prosecuted and determined, at the general or quarter sessions of the peace for the county, division, or riding, wherein the parish, township, or place from whence such poor person shall be removed doth lie, and not elsewhere;

he, she, or they are ordered to be sent, if such place be in the same county, riding, division, corporation, or franchise, where the said person or persons were apprehended; but if the place to which the person or persons so apprehended is or are to be sent, lies in some other county, riding, division, corporation, or franchise, he shall deliver the said person or persons to the constable or such other officer of the first town, parish, or place, in the next county, riding, division, corporation, or franchise, in the direct way to the place to which such person or persons is or are to be conveyed, together with the said pass and duplicate of examination, taking his receipt for the same; and such constable or other officer shall, without delay, apply to some justice of the peace in the same county, riding, division, corporation, or franchise, who shall make the like certificate as before (mutatis mutandis) and deliver it to the said constable or other officer, who shall and is hereby required with all speed to convey the person or persons unto the first parish, town, or place, in the next county, riding, division, corporation, or franchise, in the direct way to the place to which such person or persons is or are to be conveyed; and so in like manner from one county, riding, division, corporation, or franchise, to another, till they come to the place to which such person or persons is or are sent; and the constable or other officer, who shall deliver such person or persons to the churchwarden or other person ordered to receive them by such pass, shall at the same time deliver the said pass, with the duplicate of examination, taking their receipt for the same; and if the churchwarden or other person, who shall receive any person so sent, shall think the examination to be false, he is hereby impowered to carry the person so sent before some justice of the peace, who, if he see cause, may commit such person to the house of correction, till the next quarter sessions, and the justices there, if they see cause, may deal with such person as an incorrigible rogue; but the person so sent shall not be removed from the place to which sent, but by order of two justices, in the same manner as other poor persons are removed to the place of their settlement.

Persons shall pay for their own passage if they are found able.

XII. "And whereas it often happens that persons commit acts of vagrancy when they are in circumstances sufficient to pay for their journey home:" Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful for any justice of the peace, before whom any vagrants shall be carried, to order such vagrants to be searched, and their bundles to be inspected by the constable, tythingman, churchwarden, or overseer of the poor, in the presence of the said justice; and if it shall appear, that any such vagrant shall be found to have sufficient wherewithal to pay for their passage, either in the whole or in part, to the parish to which they belong, then the said justice or justices shall order so much of the money to be paid, or other effects found with or upon such vagrants, to be sold and employed for and towards the expence of taking up and passing such vagrants as aforesaid, returning the overplus (if any be), after deducting the charges of such sale, to such vagrants.

XIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the constable or other officer of any parish or place, within the counties of Cumberland, Northumberland, Durham, or town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, shall, and they are hereby authorized and required, upon any person or persons being delivered to them by a pass and examination, who shall have been apprehended within the said counties or town, or brought to them according to the direction of this act, whose place of legal settlement is in that part of Great Britain called Scotland, to deliver the said examination to the clerk of the peace for such respective county, to be kept among the records of the sessions of that county, and to convey or cause to be conveyed such person or persons, with the said pass, into the next adjoining shire, stewartry, or place in that part of the united kingdom; and to deliver him, her, or them, to some constable or other officer of the next parish, district, or place within the said shire, stewartry, or place, taking his receipt for him, her, or them; and such officer is hereby required to receive such person or persons, and give such receipt, and to dispose of him, her, or them, according to law; and in case any such vagrant after being so sent and conveyed into that part of Great Britain called Scotland, shall, after being so sent as aforesaid, be found wandering, begging, or misbehaving him or herself within that part of Great Britain called England, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this act; every such person so offending, shall be deemed an incorrigible rogue, and be punished as incorrigible rogues are to be punished by this act.

XVI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the justices of the peace of any county, riding, city, borough, town corporate, division, or liberty, shall and may at the general or quarter sessions of the peace from time to time, limit, appoint, and direct what rates and allowances per mile, or otherwise, shall be made for the passing, conveying, or maintaining of rogues, vagabonds, or incorrigible rogues, to be passed or conveyed as aforesaid; and may likewise make such other orders, rules, and directions, for the more regular proceeding or acting therein, within their respective limits and jurisdictions, as they, in their discretion, shall think proper; which rates, allowances, orders, rules, and directions shall from time to time, be observed and submitted to by all justices of the peace, constables, officers, and other persons within the same limits and jurisdictions respectively.

XXIII. "And whereas persons hereinbefore described to be rogues, vagabonds, or incorrigible rogues, are much encouraged in wandering about, by the reception they too often meet with in villages and places where they are permitted to lodge in houses, barns, or other out-houses or buildings, by means whereof, and their falling sick there, great expences are sometimes brought upon parishes;" for remedy thereof, be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any person shall knowingly permit or suffer any such rogue, vagabond, or incorrigible rogue, to lodge or take shelter in his or her house, barn, or other out-house or buildings, and shall not apprehend and carry such rogue, vagabond, or incorrigible rogue, before some justice of the peace, or give notice to some constable, or other such officer so to do, such person being thereof lawfully convicted, either on confession, or upon oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses, before one or more of His Majesty's justices of the peace where such offence shall be committed, shall forfeit any sum not exceeding forty shillings, nor less than ten shillings; one moiety thereof to the informer, and the other moiety to the use of the poor of the parish or place where such offence shall be committed; to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such offender, by warrant from such justice or justices, returning the overplus (if any) upon demand, after such forfeiture and charges of such distress shall be satisfied; and if any charge shall be brought upon any parish or place, by means of any such offence, the same shall be answered to the said parish or place by such offender, and be levied by distress and sale of his or their goods and chattels as aforesaid: and if sufficient distress cannot be found, such of-

"And whereas persons are often found offending against this act, having children with them, whom they bring up in a dissolute course of life, destructive to such children, and prejudicial to the kingdom, in which a race of disorderly persons will increase, if such children are suffered to remain with such offenders:" Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any such child, above the age of seven years, shall be committed to the house of correction as aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for the justices at the quarter sessions, if they see convenient, at any time before such child be discharged, to order such child to be placed out in such manner as they shall think fit, as a servant or apprentice to any person within their respective jurisdictions, who is willing to take such child, to serve such person till such child shall arrive at the age of twenty one years, or for any less time, as to the said justices shall seem meet: and if any offender, who was found with such child as aforesaid, shall be again found with the same child (which was so placed out as aforesaid) offending against this act, such offender shall be deemed an incorrigible rogue.

XXV. "And whereas women wandering and begging are often delivered of children in parishes and places to which they do not belong, whereby they become chargeable to the same," Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, That where any such woman shall be so delivered, and become chargeable, it shall and may be lawful for the churchwardens or overseers of the poor of such parish or place, to detain such woman in their custody, until they can safely convey her to some justice of the peace, who shall examine her, and commit her to the house of correction, until the next general or quarter sessions, who may (if they see convenient) order her to be publicly whipt, and detained in the house of correction, for any further time, not exceeding six months; and upon application by the churchwardens or overseers of the place where she was so delivered, the justices at such sessions shall order the treasurer of the county or district to pay them such a sum of money as shall be adjudged a reasonable satisfaction for the charges such place has been put to on such woman's account.

XXVII. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That in all cities and towns, where, by virtue of special acts of parliament, the charge of passing vagrants is to be defrayed in other manner than is by this act directed, or where such vagrants, by virtue of special statutes, are to be apprehended and conveyed to the places whither they are to be sent by any person or persons, or officers, other than those named for that purpose in this act, such charge shall be borne and defrayed in such cities and towns in like manner as before the making of this act; and the person or officer liable to such service in the said cities and towns, by virtue of the said special acts of parliament, shall continue liable, as if this act had never been made; and if any person shall be delivered to a bedel or constable within the city or liberties of the city of London, to be conveyed on, as directed by this act, the said bedel or constable shall not deliver such person in any other precinct within the said city or liberties, but in the next county, as directed by this act.

XXVIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That where any persons offending against this act have been committed, as aforesaid, to the house of correction, there to remain until the next general or quarter sessions, if upon the examination of the person so committed as aforesaid, no place can be found to which they may be sent by a pass as aforesaid, the said justices shall, at the said sessions, order such persons to be detained and employed in the house of correction, until they can provide for themselves,

An Act for better regulating Apprentices, and Persons working under Contract.

“WHEREAS persons employed in several manufactoryes of this kingdom frequently take apprentices who are very young, and, for several years of their apprenticeships, are rather a burthen than otherwise to their masters; and whereas it frequently happens that such apprentices, when they might be expected to be useful to their masters, absent themselves from their service, and whereas the laws in being are not sufficient to prevent these inconveniences:” for remedy whereof, may it please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by The King most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand seven hundred and sixty-six, if any apprentice shall absent himself from his master’s service, before the term of his apprenticeship shall be expired, every such apprentice shall, at any time or times thereafter, whenever he shall be found, be compelled to serve his said master for so long a time as he shall have so absented himself from such service, unless he shall make satisfaction to his master for the loss he shall have sustained by his absence from his service; and so, from time to time, as often as any such apprentice shall, without leave of his master, absent himself from his service before the term of his contract shall be fulfilled; and in case any such apprentice shall refuse to serve as hereby required, or to make such satisfaction, to his master,

An Act for the better Regulation of the Parish Poor Children, of the several Parishes therein mentioned, within the Bills of Mortality.

“WHEREAS it would greatly tend to the preservation of the lives of the infant parish poor of the several parishes hereafter mentioned, and be of publick utility,
if

if the officers of such parishes were compelled by law to send such infant poor into the country, to be nursed for a certain time; and proper persons appointed guardians in each parish, to inspect into the management and usage of such infants; and whereas the keeping registers of such infant poor, until they shall respectively arrive at the age of fourteen years, be placed out apprentice, or otherwise disposed of, would be a further means of preserving the lives of such infants." May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That all and every child and children who on or before the first day of July, one thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven, was or were born in, or received into any workhouse or parish-house, or which shall thereafter be born in any workhouse or parish-house, or received by any select vestries, governors, directors, or managers, appointed for the management of parochial affairs, or by any churchwardens, overseers of the poor, or other officer or officers authorized by the several parishes following, or any of them respectively; that is to say, the seventeen parishes without the walls of London; the twenty-three parishes in Middlesex and Surrey, being within the bills of mortality, and the liberty of the tower of London; and the ten parishes within the city and liberty of Westminster; shall be nursed and taken care of in manner as hereafter mentioned.

Children born in, or received into any workhouse or parish-house, within the several parishes here mentioned, are to be nursed and taken care of, as follows; viz.

Such of them as are under six years of age to be sent in the country, not less than three miles off;

those under two years, not suckled by the mother, not less than five miles off;

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all such children, under the age of six years, who upon the said first day of July, shall be under the care of vestries, governors, directors, or managers of the poor, or parish officers, shall, within fourteen days after the said time, be sent into the country, to a distance not less than three miles from any part of the cities of London and Westminster; there to be nursed and maintained at the charge of their respective parishes.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all children who shall, from and after the said first day of July, be born in, or shall be received into workhouses or parish-houses, belonging to the said parishes, not being suckled by the mother, under the age of two years, shall, within fourteen days after their birth or reception, be sent into into the country, to a distance not less than five miles from any part of the said cities of London or Westminster; and all children received into such workhouses or parish-houses above the age of two years, and under the age of six years, shall, within fourteen days after their reception, be sent into the country, to a distance not less than three miles from any part of the said cities of London or Westminster, there to be nursed and maintained in manner hereinafter directed.

and those above two and under six years of age, not less than three miles off.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That for the nursing and maintenance of each child so put out as aforesaid, the respective sums following shall be paid; that is to say, for the first six years of their age, a sum not less than two shillings and sixpence; and from that time until such child shall be put out apprentice, or return to the workhouse, a sum not less than two shillings per week; and shall also, over and above the said charge of nursing and maintaining each child, pay to every nurse who shall have received any child of or under the age of nine months (the said child being alive, and having been treated properly, and to the satisfaction of the guardians hereafter mentioned, or the major part of them, assembled at any meeting appointed by this act) after having been under her care twelve months, a sum not less than ten shillings, as a reward for her pains and care taken in the nursing of such child: and the governors, directors, managers, or overseers of the poor, of the respective parishes from whence such children shall be so sent to nurse, shall find good, proper, and sufficient cloathing for each and every of them respectively; and shall defray the expences of conveyance, medicines, burials, and all other necessary expences incurred on account of the said children; and shall keep, in a book or books to be provided for that purpose, separate, regular, and exact accounts of all expences incurred in relation thereto.

Weekly rates to be paid for their nursing and maintaining, till apprenticed, or returned to the workhouse. Conditional reward to nurses for their care.

Cloathing to be furnished, and all other incidental expences defrayed, by the parish, and separate accounts to be kept thereof.

V. And, in order the more effectually to guard against all dangerous consequences which may arise to the said children from false parsimony, negligence, inadvertency, or the annual change of parish officers, be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That five noblemen or gentlemen, inhabitants of each parish, shall, within fourteen days after the said first day of July, be appointed and chosen, under the title or denomination of Guardians of the parish poor children; two or more of which said guardians shall be chosen out of the select vestry, or out of the governors, directors, tors, or managers of the poor of each parish; and, where there is no select vestry, governors, directors, or managers, then the said five guardians to be chosen and appointed out of the noblemen and gentlemen inhabitants of each parish; and the election to be made upon Tuesday, or some other day in Easter week, by the inhabitants having right to assemble in vestry; and in case there shall be no noblemen or gentlemen, or not be a sufficient number of such noblemen or gentlemen who will accept of the office of guardians; then the said guardians, or so many as shall be wanting to make up the number of five, shall be chosen out of the principal and most respectable inhabitants: and if any of the parties so chosen shall refuse to act, or shall afterwards resign their guardianship, or shall die, that then, and in either of the said cases, a further choice shall be made in the same manner as before-mentioned, within fourteen days after such refusal, resignation, or death, of so many as shall be necessary to complete the number.

Five guardians of the parish poor children to be chosen.

Where any shall refuse to act, or shall resign, or die, a further choice to be made.

First guardians to continue till the year 1770:

future guardians to remain three years in office.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That such noblemen, gentlemen, or principal inhabitants, who shall, in consequence of this act, be first chosen and appointed guardians of the parish poor children, shall continue and remain in their respective offices till the day in Easter week, in the year one thousand seven hundred and seventy, of the inhabitants meeting for the choice of guardians as aforesaid; and that the guardians then chosen, or at any time thereafter to be chosen, shall remain in their respective offices for the term of three years then next ensuing: and that all appointments of guardians in future shall be once in three years only, except in cases of death, resignation, or refusal as aforesaid.

Churchwardens and overseers disqualified from being elected guardians.

VII. Provided always, That no churchwarden, or overseer of the poor, shall be elected into the said office of a guardian.

Power and duty of guardians.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said guardians, or any one of them, shall have free admittance to visit and see the said parish poor children, and inform themselves fully concerning their state and condition; and the said guardians shall also have full liberty to examine, and have free access to, all registers, books, and accounts relating to the said children: and in case of any neglect or improper conduct, whereby the life or health of a child may appear to the said guardians, or to any one of them, to be in danger, to report the same to the select vestry, governors, directors, or managers, or to the churchwardens or overseers of the poor: and if the said vestry, governors, directors, or managers, churchwardens, or overseers, or some of one of them, do not take the most efficacious measures to remedy the evil complained of; that then it shall be lawful to and for the said guardians, or any one of them, to inform one or more of His Majesty's justices of the peace, and give evidence of the facts; and the said justice or justices of the peace is and are hereby empowered to give such orders and directions therein, as he or they shall think most proper.

Evils complained of by them how to be remedied.

IX. And be it further enacted, That the said guardians shall be summoned by the vestry clerk, at least once in six weeks, to meet at the vestry room, or where there is no vestry room, in other convenient place; and two of the said guardians shall make a quorum, either of them having the liberty of calling in one of the churchwardens or overseers; and when only one of the said guardians is present, he shall have the liberty of calling in two of the churchwardens or overseers, who shall attend him accordingly; and when any number of the said five guardians shall meet, they shall have the liberty of calling in two of the churchwardens or overseers, as the majority of them shall think proper.

A meeting of the guardians to be summoned every six weeks; two make a quorum; power given them singly, or jointly, to call in the churchwardens or overseers.

X. And whereas in many parishes the said select vestries, governors, directors, or managers, churchwardens, or overseers of the poor, may find it inconvenient and difficult, through want of regular correspondence with proper persons in the country, to supply them with nurses, and also to take the charge of inspecting nurseries, in such a manner as shall prove effectual to the preservation of the lives of the said children; Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said select vestries, governors, directors, or managers, churchwardens, or overseers of the poor, shall be at liberty to send their said parish poor children, or any of them, being under the age of six years as aforesaid, to the hospital for the maintenance and education of exposed and deserted young children; and it shall and may be lawful to and for the governors and guardians of the said hospital, for the time being, to receive such children: and the said select vestries, governors, directors, managers, churchwardens, or overseers of the poor, are hereby empowered to

XI. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the terms so agreed upon, and the sums agreed to be paid for the admission, maintenance, and education of such parish poor children as shall be sent to the said hospital, shall be paid, by the overseer or overseers of the poor for the time being, out of the poor's rate of each parish respectively: and in case any sum or sums of money agreed between the said select vestries, governors, directors, or managers, churchwardens, or overseers, and the governors and guardians of the said hospital, or any five of them in committee, shall not be paid by such overseer or overseers, to the person or persons who shall be authorized by the said governors and guardians to receive the same, it shall and may be lawful to and for any one or more of His Majesty's justices of the peace for the counties of Middlesex or Surrey, the city and liberty of Westminster, or liberties of the Tower Hamlets, respectively, to summon the overseer or overseers who shall refuse or neglect to make such payment, and to order immediate payment to be made of so much as shall appear to such justice or justices to be due, together with such costs and charges as may have been incurred by the said governors and guardians in consequence of such refusal or neglect: and if the overseer or overseers shall refuse or neglect to obey the order of such justice or justices, the sum directed to be paid thereby shall be recovered by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such overseer or overseers, together with the costs attending such distress and sale, rendering the overplus (if any) to the owler.

XII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That at the time of the death, discharge, or apprenticeship of any such parish poor child, a certificate thereof shall be sent, by the secretary of the said governors and guardians, to the vestry clerk, or overseers of the poor, of such parish to which the said child did belong.

XIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the hospital account shall be kept with each parish distinct, in a proper book or books, with marginal columns, according to the schedule annexed, marked (A); and that such book or books, or true copies thereof, shall be signed by the secretary of the hospital.

XIV. And

XIV. And whereas it often disturbs the peace of domestic life, checks marriage, and discourages industry, to place out boys to the age of twenty-four years; therefore, in order to remedy the same, Be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful to place or bind out boys as well as girls apprentices, by the respective parish officers for the time being, and also by the governors and guardians of the hospital for the maintenance and education of exposed and deserted young children, for the term of seven years, or till they shall attain their respective ages of twenty-one years, and no longer.

Parish children, and foundlings, to be apprenticed for not more than 7 years, or till 21 years of age.

XV. And whereas the sums of twenty shillings to forty shillings now usually given with a child placed out by the parishes, are by no means adequate to the procuring such masters and mistresses as are in general fit and proper: and whereas there is a general neglect in the moral and religious instruction of apprentices, and some pecuniary encouragement may excite masters and mistresses to discharge their duty, in this respect, towards young persons who are thus intrusted to their care; Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That from and after the said first day of July, one thousand seven hundred and sixty seven, no such parish child shall be bound out an apprentice with a sum less than four pounds two shillings as an apprentice fee: forty shillings whereof to be paid to the master or mistress within seven weeks after executing the indentures, and the remaining forty-two shillings to be paid after such apprentice shall have served three years of his or her apprenticeship.

Apprentice fee not to be less than 4l 2s. and to be paid at two payments.

XVI. "And whereas the act of the second of His present Majesty, intituled, An act for the keeping regular, uniform, and annual registers, of all parish poor infants under a certain age within the bills of mortality, requires no account of the children after the age of four years;" Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the respective vestries, governors, directors, managers, overseers of the poor, or other officer or officers, of the several and respective parishes hereinbefore mentioned, or some or one of them, shall, and they are hereby directed and required, on or before the said first day of July, to provide, or cause to be provided, at the expence of their respective parishes wherein there is or shall be a workhouse, hospital, or other house or place provided for the maintenance of the poor, a book of royal paper, which shall be ruled with distinct columns, and

“WHEREAS, through the humane and benevolent assistance of well-disposed persons, many hospitals and places have been established for the charitable reception of pregnant women, which have afforded great relief in times of the utmost distress, and therefore merit every due support and encouragement; but some inconveniencies having been found to arise from the number of bastard children born in such hospitals and places which have become heavy burdens, and have occasioned unreasonable charges upon those parishes wherein such hospitals and places have been instituted, to their great and unjust oppression:” and whereas it would tend, as well to promote the interest of such hospitals and places, as to give a seasonable relief to such parishes, if a law was made to regulate the settlement of such bastard children, “May it please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the first day of November, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, no hospital or place shall be established, used, or appropriated, or continue to be used or appropriated, for the public reception of pregnant women, under public or private support, regulation, and management, in any parish within that part of Great Britain called England, unless a licence shall be first had and obtained, in manner hereafter mentioned, from the justices of the peace, at some one of their general quarter sessions to be held for the county, riding, division, city, or corporation, wherein such hospital or place shall be situated; and such justices are hereby authorised and required to grant such licence to any person or persons who shall apply for the same, such person or persons paying the sum of forty shillings for every such licence to the clerk of the peace of such county, riding, or division, or to the town-clerk of such city

An Act to amend such part of an Act, made in the Forty-third Year of the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled, An Act for the Relief of the Poor, as relates to the binding of Parish Apprentices.

“ WHEREAS in and by an act, made in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled, An act for the relief of the poor, it was enacted, that it should be lawful for the churchwardens and overseers therein mentioned, or the greater part of them, by the assent of any two justices of the peace, to bind the children of all such parents who shall not, by the said churchwardens and overseers, or the greater part of them, be thought due to keep and maintain their children, to be apprentices, where they shall see convenient, till such man-child shall come to the age of four and twenty years, and such woman-child to the age of one and twenty years or day of marriage; and whereas it has been found by experience, that the said term respecting man-children is longer than is necessary, and that if such man-child was bound to be an apprentice only till he came to the age of one and twenty years, all the benefits intended by the said act would be preserved, the hardships brought on such parish apprentices, by the length of their apprenticeship, would be avoided, and the good harmony between master and apprentice would be better maintained: May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and so it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled and by the authority of the same. That, from and after the passing of this act, when any man-child shall be bound to be an apprentice by virtue of and under the authority of the said act, made in the forty-third year of Queen Elizabeth, such child shall be bound to be an apprentice for no longer term than till such child shall come to the age of twenty-one years.

sufferings and distresses are nevertheless very grievous; and, by the incapacity, negligence, or misconduct of overseers, the money raised for the relief of the poor is frequently misapplied, and sometimes expended in defraying the charges of litigations about settlements indiscreetly and unadvisedly carried on; and whereas by a clause in an act passed in the ninth year of the reign of King George the First, intituled, An act for the amendment of the laws relating to the settlement, employment, and relief of the poor, power is given to the churchwardens and overseers in the manner therein mentioned, to purchase or hire houses, and contract with any person for the lodging, keeping, maintaining, and employing the poor, and taking the benefit of their work, labour, and service, for their maintenance; and, where any parish, town, or township, should be found too small, to unite two or more for those purposes, with the consent of the major part of the parishioners or inhabitants, and the approbation of a justice of peace; which provisions, from the want of proper regulations and management in the poor-houses or workhouses that have been purchased or hired under the authority of the said act, and for want of due inspection and controul over the persons who have engaged in those contracts, have not had the desired effect, but the poor in many places, instead of finding protection and relief, have been much oppressed thereby; for remedy of these grievances and inconveniences, and in order to make better and more effectual provision for the relief and employment of the poor, and to introduce a prudent economy in the expenditure of the parish money: may it please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the 25th day of March, which shall be in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three, so much of the said clause as respects the maintaining or hiring out the labour of the poor by contract within any parish, township, or place, which shall adopt the provisions of this act, shall be and is hereby repealed, and every contract or agreement made in pursuance thereof, for either of those purposes, shall become, and is hereby declared to be, null and void.

Provided always, and be it further enacted, That, when any complaint or application shall be made to a justice of the peace, for the relief of any poor person, within any parish, township, or place, for which a visitor shall be appointed, such justice shall not summon the guardian to appear before him, unless application shall have been first made, by the person so complaining, to the guardian, and, if he refuses redress, to the visitor, (it being part of his duty to adjust matters of that sort,) who shall order relief if he thinks it necessary, either within or out of the poor-house, as he shall judge right; but if sufficient relief shall not be so given or ordered, the poor person complaining, or on whose behalf such complaint shall be made, shall be redressed by such justice in the manner hereinbefore directed.

and chattels, by virtue of a warrant under the hand and seal of any justice of the peace having jurisdiction where such offender shall dwell, rendering to the said offender the overplus (if any) after the charges of such distress and sale shall be deducted; and in case sufficient distress shall not be found, then, and in every such case, it shall and may be lawful to and for any such justice of the peace to commit such offender to the house of correction, there to remain, without bail or mainprize, for any space not exceeding six calendar months, nor less than one calendar month; and that every such penalty and forfeiture, if not hereby otherwise directed to be disposed of, shall be paid to the treasurer of every such house or houses, where any such shall be established under the authority of this act, to be applied by him towards defraying the monthly expences of victuals, beer, firing, and other necessary provisions for the poor within such house or houses.

XLVI. And be it further enacted, That any person aggrieved by the act of any justice or justices of the peace out of sessions, in or concerning the execution of this act, may appeal to the next general quarter sessions of the peace for the county, riding, liberty, division, precinct, or district, wherein such act was done, giving eight days notice thereof to the party against whom the complaint shall be made, and giving security, by recognizance, to be acknowledged before a justice of the peace, with a sufficient surety, to pay the costs attending such appeal, if the matter shall be determined against the appellant; and the justices at such quarter sessions are hereby authorized to hear and determine such appeal, and to award costs, for or against the appellant, as they shall see just cause so to do; which determination shall be final, and shall not be removed by certiorari.

N^o XV.

Mode of adjusting the first account mentioned in the act, respecting utensils, materials, furniture, rent, et cetera.

LET it be supposed that the parishes or townships of A., B., C., and D. have agreed to be united under the authority of the act; and that E. and F. are the persons named in the agreement as arbitrators, or referees, to settle and adjust the proportions which each parish or place is to pay.

It will be necessary for E. and F. at their first meeting, to call upon the officers of every such parish, township, or place, for their assessments and accounts, in order to see what they have paid to their poor, on a medium of three years preceding the agreement; who are required by the act to produce them under a penalty for refusal.

When the arbitrators have got these materials, it will be necessary to separate and deduct every matter which does not relate to the poor; for instance, money paid to the county rates, or for the expences of the constable, headborough, or militia, which are all now included in the poor's rates; and, as some of these parishes may have had expences occasioned by litigation about settlements and removals, and others may not, they should exclude all such expences in the account.

When the accounts have been so inspected and examined, and the proper deductions made, they may be supposed to appear:

That

That A. has paid for the first of the three years —	£	s.	d.
for the second year —	65	7	6
for the third year —	87	2	—
	105	—	—
Making together	257	9	6

A third part of which sum (being A.'s medium),
will be — — — — — 85 16 6

Let B.'s payments be calculated in the same manner, which may be supposed to amount, on the medium of three years, to — — — 110 — —

C.'s Do. to — — — — — 97 — —

D.'s Do. to — — — — — 140 — —

The total amount of the annual payments will be 432 16 6

Suppose the month's expenses paid by the several parishes under the above heads, according to the directions of the act, should amount to £300, the question will be if £432 16 6, (the total medium of all the parishes), require £300, what will £85 16 6 require? When that shall be worked by the rule of three, multiplying the third number by the second, and dividing it when so multiplied by the first, the answer
will be,

That A. 's proportion amounts to — — —	59	9	5
B. 's proportion, when worked in the same manner, will be — — —	76	5	2
C. 's Do. — — — — —	67	4	7
D. 's Do. — — — — —	97	1	—

Making together the whole sum expended 300 — —

When those medium sums shall be settled and proportioned at their first meeting, there will be no occasion to repeat that trouble afterwards, as the first sum will be the same on all future calculations; and to prevent trouble in adjusting the proportions at every monthly medium, at every poor house, soon after the first medium proportions shall be so ascertained, there shall be a table fixed, calculating the proportions of each parish, township, or place, to any given sum, from the smallest to the greatest, that is likely to be expended in that district within the month; which will make every account clear and easy to the meanest understanding, and will be liquidated in an instant.

Nº XVI.

Mode of adjusting the second account mentioned in the act, respecting the victuals, beer, firing, and other necessaries.

AS soon as the agreement is made for uniting several parishes, &c. the guardians shall meet and consider what will be a proper weekly sum to be paid into the hands of the treasurer for every person admitted into the poor-house, estimating it as near as they can to the probable expence of maintaining them; the guardians should pay to the treasurer, at every monthly meeting, what shall be due for every such person, upon that calculation, for the time he has been kept there in the month preceding; and in order to avoid fractions, if any person shall have been there four days or more. in any of the weeks, it should be considered as a full week, and if less than four days, no charge should be made for it: That in order to avoid difficulties in adjusting the account, a table should be provided, in like manner as before, and fixed up in the house, with proper columns for the number of persons, the number of weeks, and the total amount, according to the weekly sum so agreed upon; by which that account will likewise be settled without the least trouble or difficulty.

The several monthly sums paid by each parish on this second account, and also the gross sums, should be entered in the treasurer's books; and at the end of the year it should be computed whether the payments by the several parishes have amounted to more, or less, than the sum expended; if to more the guardian of each parish should receive, if to less, he should pay his proportion thereof to the treasurer, to be computed according to the first account, as directed by the act.

Rules, Orders, Bye-laws, and Regulations, to be observed and enforced at every Poor House to be provided and established under the authority of the act of the twenty-second year of King George the Third.

First. THAT the several persons who shall be sent to any such poor-house, who are capable of doing any work, shall be employed by the governor in some labour which may be best suited to their strength and capacity.

Second. That the governor shall take particular care to keep the said house, and the several apartments therein, and also the several persons who shall inhabit the same, clean and wholesome; and for that purpose he shall employ such of the said poor persons who shall be sent thither, whom he shall think most able and best qualified for the offices, to assist him therein, and also in the providing and dressing victuals for the use of such poor persons; and if any such poor person shall refuse or neglect to perform the work or labour in which he or she shall be so employed, or shall be directed to do by the governor, every such person shall be punished by confinement, or alteration of diet, in such manner as the governor shall direct; and for a second offence of the like sort, complaint thereof shall be made to some justice of the peace for the limit, who, on conviction, shall commit such person to the house of correction for any time not exceeding two calendar months, nor less than one calendar month.

Third. That the apartments in the house or houses to be provided as aforesaid, shall be adapted so as to accommodate the poor who shall be sent thither in the best manner they are capable.—That the governor shall place in the best apartments such poor persons who, having been creditable housekeepers, are reduced by misfortune, in preference to those who are become poor by vice and idleness; and that separate apartments shall be provided for the reception of the sick and distempered poor, and an apothecary or surgeon to be sent for to attend them when there shall appear necessity for it, at the expence of the parish or place to which such poor persons belong.

Fourth. That such poor persons who are able to work, shall be called up by ring of bell, and set to work by six in the

the morning from Eady-day to Michaelmas, and by eight from Michaelmas to Lady-day; and continue until four in the afternoon from Michaelmas to Lady-day, and from Lady-day to Michaelmas till six in the afternoon (meal times and times for reasonable recreation excepted); and if any such poor person shall refuse or neglect to do such work as shall be allotted him or her, or wilfully spoil the same, or depart from such house without leave from the governor, or shall be guilty of any disorder or disobedience to these rules and orders, the governor shall reprove such person for the same, and punish him or her by confinement or alteration of diet, as the said governor shall think fit; and if such person shall be guilty of the like offence a second time, the governor shall complain thereof to the visitor of such house, who is hereby authorized to order the punishment of confinement to be increased to such degree as he shall think fit.

Fifth. That the governor shall enter in a book to be kept by him, an account of the household goods, linen, furniture, and utensils, provided for the said house; and also an account of the materials bought for manufacture, and of the goods manufactured there; which shall be laid before the guardians at their monthly meeting, and before the visitor whenever he comes to such house.

Sixth. That the governor shall visit the several persons maintained in such house or houses, and their apartments, once at least in every day; and shall take care that there is no waste of fire, candles, or provisions; and shall see that the fires and candles are put out at the hours fixed for such persons going to bed, which shall be at eight of the clock between Michaelmas and Lady-day, and nine between Lady-day and Michaelmas.

Seventh. That when any person shall die in the house, the governor shall take care that the body of such person be immediately removed into some separate apartment, and be decently buried, as soon as conveniently may be; and also take care of the clothes and goods of such person, and deliver them to the guardian of the poor of the parish or place to which such person did belong, who is to pay the charges of the funeral of such poor person.

Eighth. That no poor person be permitted to go out of the poor-house, nor any person permitted to come into such house or houses, except the persons maintained and employed ployed there, without the permission of the governor; and that no spirituous liquors be permitted to be drank in such house or houses, and that no other liquors shall be brought thither, without the permission of the said governor.

Ninth. That the rules, orders, and bye-laws shall be publicly read by the governor to all the poor persons kept in such house or houses, once at least in every month.

Tenth. That all the poor persons able to go to church, shall attend divine service every Sunday.

Eleventh. That the governor shall dismiss from the poor-house or workhouse, every person who shall, in the opinion of the guardian or guardians, be thought improper to continue longer there, and upon an order from him or them for that purpose.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That no justice of the peace shall order any reward to be paid to any constable or other person, for apprehending any rogue or vagabond, until such rogue or vagabond shall have been punished as hereby directed, and until the examination required by the aforesaid act be actually transmitted to the next general or quarter sessions, there to be filed and kept on record.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That whosoever any female shall be guilty of any offence, for which she shall be convicted as a rogue and a vagabond, or

Soldiers and mariners wandering and begging to be deemed vagabonds.

"VIII. And whereas several persons, by their wilful default and neglect, permit their wives and children to become chargeable to their respective parishes and townships;" Be it therefore enacted, That if it shall be made appear to any two justices of the peace, that any poor person shall not use proper means to get employment, or, if he is able to work, by his neglect of work, or by spending his money in alehouses or places of bad repute, or in any other improper manner, shall not apply a proper proportion of the money earned by him

An Act for the further Regulation of Parish Apprentices.

“WHEREAS by an act, passed in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled, An Act for the relief of the poor, it is (amongst other things) enacted, That it shall be lawful for the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of any parish, or the greater part of them, by the assent of two justices of the peace, to bind any children, whose parents they shall judge to be not able to keep and maintain such children, to be apprentices, where they shall see convenient, till such man-child should come to the age of twenty-four years, and such woman-child to the age of twenty-one years, or the time of her marriage, the same to be as effectual to all purposes, as if such child were of full age, and by indenture of covenant bound him or herself: And whereas by an act, made in the eighth and ninth years of the reign of King William, intituled, An act for supplying some defects in the laws for the relief of the poor of this kingdom; after reciting, that, there being doubts whether the persons to whom such children were to be bound, under and by virtue of the said statute of the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, were compellable to receive such children as apprentices, that law had failed of its execution, it was therefore enacted, That where any poor children should be appointed to be bound apprentices, pursuant to the said act of Queen Elizabeth, the persons to whom they are so appointed to be bound apprentices, shall receive and provide for them according to the indenture signed and confirmed by the two justices of the peace, and also execute the other part of the said indentures, under the penalty, in case of refusal, of the forfeiture of ten pounds for every such offence, to be levied of the goods of the offender, in the manner mentioned in the said act: And whereas by an act passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An act to amend such part of an act, made in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled, An act for the relief of the poor, as relates to the binding of parish apprentices, it was enacted, That when any man-child should be bound to be an apprentice, by virtue of the said act made in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, such child shall be bound to be an apprentice for no longer term than till he shall come to the age of twenty-one years: And whereas in such indentures of apprenticeship, it hath been usual to insert several agreements and covenants to be done and performed by the several parties thereto (that is to say), an agreement on the part of the apprentice that he will faithfully serve his master during the term of such apprenticeship; and also several covenants on the part of the master, for himself, his executors and administrators, that he the said master will teach or cause to be taught such apprentice in the business of husbandry, or in the craft, mystery, or occupation which such master then useth, as the case may be; and that such master shall also, during the term of such apprenticeship, find and allow unto such apprentice sufficient meat, drink, apparel, lodging, and all other things needful for an apprentice, during such term: And whereas, in the event of the death of the master during the term of such apprenticeship, the agreement for service on the part of the apprentice is at an end, but the covenant for maintenance on the part of the master still continues in force, as far as the master's assets will extend, or doubts have arisen with respect thereto, and in consequence thereof, such apprentices do frequently on the death of their master leave their master's house, and, after living in idleness, return again and become a burden on their master's estate, and so from time to time as they think proper, which is attended with great inconvenience and hardship to the family and personal representatives of such master, and is at the same time an inducement to such apprentice to continue in a disorderly and idle course of life: And whereas the several powers given to justices of the peace for the better ordering of parish apprentices, by the several acts of parliament made for that purpose, do cease and determine on the death of the master, for which a remedy ought to be provided: And whereas several other regulations are necessary to be made respecting parish apprentices: Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the first day of July one thousand seven hundred and ninety-two, in case of the death of any master or mistress of any parish apprentice, during the term of such apprenticeship, upon the binding out of which apprentice no larger sum than five pounds has been or shall be paid, such covenant as is before mentioned for the maintenance of such apprentice, inserted in the indenture of apprenticeship by which such apprentice shall have been or shall be bound, shall not continue and be in force for and during any longer time than for three calendar months next after the death of such master or mistress, and that during such three calendar months such apprentice shall continue to live with and serve as an apprentice, the executors and administrators of such master or mistress, some or one of them, or such person or persons as such executors or administrators, some or one of them, shall appoint; and the master or mistress whom such apprentice shall accordingly serve during the said three calendar months, and also such apprentice shall during that time be subject and liable to all the laws which are or shall be in force for the better government and regulation of masters and parish apprentices: And that in all such parish indentures of apprenticeship as aforesaid, which shall be made from and after the first day of July one thousand seven hundred and ninety-two, there shall be annexed to the covenants in such indentures to be entered into on the part of the master or mistress of such apprentice, for such maintenance as aforesaid, a proviso declaring, that such covenant shall not be made to continue and be in force for any longer time than for three calendar months next after the death of such master or mistress, in case such master or mistress shall die during the term of such apprenticeship; which proviso may be in the form or to the effect mentioned in the schedule hereunto annexed, and marked with the

the letter A. and in case such proviso shall happen to be omitted in any such indenture, the covenant therein contained on the part of the master for the maintenance of the apprentice, shall be deemed and taken to continue and be in force for no longer time than for three calendar months next after the death of such master or mistress, in case such master or mistress shall die during the term of such apprenticeship; any thing in any such covenant to the contrary notwithstanding.

"II. And whereas it is just and reasonable, that such apprentice as aforesaid, in case of his master's death during his apprenticeship, should be obliged, during the term of his apprenticeship, to make some satisfaction by his labour to the family or representatives of his deceased master, for the advantage he has received from his apprenticeship in his childhood, when his services could not be equal to the expenses of his maintenance," Be it enacted, That within such three calendar months after the death of such master or mistress, it shall and may be lawful for any two justices of the peace of the county, city, town, riding, division, or place where such master or mistress shall have died, on application made to them by the widow of such master, or by the husband of such mistress, or by any son or daughter, brother or sister, or by any executor or executrix, administrator or administratrix, of such master or mistress, by indorsement on any such indenture of apprenticeship, or the counterpart thereof, or by any other instrument in writing (which indorsement or instrument may be in the form or to the effect mentioned in the schedule hereunto annexed marked with the letters B. and C.) to order and direct that such apprentice shall serve as an apprentice any one of such persons so making such application as aforesaid (such person having lived with, and having been part of the family of, such master or mistress at the time of his or her death), as the said justices shall in their discretion think fit for and during the residue of the term mentioned in such indenture of apprenticeship; and the person obtaining such order shall declare his acceptance of such apprentice, by subscribing his or her name to such order; and that from and after such order shall be made, the executors and administrators, and the personal assets, estate, and effects, of the master or mistress so dying as aforesaid, shall be released and discharged of, and from any promise or covenant whatsoever, contained in any such indenture of apprenticeship, on the part of such master or mistress, his or her executors or administrators, to be done and performed; and the person obtaining the same shall be and be deemed and taken to be, the master or mistress of such apprentice, in like manner as if such apprentice had been originally bound to such master or mistress; and that such last mentioned master or mistress, his or her executors and administrators, each and every of them, shall be held and bound by the several promises and covenants contained in any such indenture of apprenticeship on the part of the master or mistress therein named, his or her executors or administrators, to be done and performed, in like manner as if such master or mistress obtaining such order as aforesaid had duly executed the counterpart of such indenture; and that such master or mistress and apprentice shall be subject and liable to the several penalties, provisions, and regulations which shall then be in force for the better government and good order of masters and parish apprentices; and that all justices of the peace shall have the like powers and authority, with respect thereto, as they shall then have by any act or acts of parliament relating to parish apprentices.

Provisions to take place on the death of the original master to extend to subsequent ones.

III. And be it further enacted, that all and singular the regulations and provisions hereinbefore made, and directed to take place on the death of the original master or mistress, shall be deemed and taken to relate to the like event of the death of any such subsequent master or mistress, and to their several relations and representatives before enumerated, from time to time, as often as the case shall happen, during the continuance of the term mentioned in any such indenture of apprenticeship.

If no application be made, or the justices should not think fit that the apprenticeship should be continued, it shall be at an end.

IV. And be it further enacted, That in case no such application shall be made as aforesaid within three calendar months next after the death of such master or mistress, or in case such two justices, to whom any such application as aforesaid shall have been made, shall not think fit that such apprenticeship should be continued, then the said apprenticeship shall be determined, and the indenture of apprenticeship and covenants therein contained shall be at an end, in like manner as they would have been at the expiration of the term therein mentioned.

V. Pro-

V. Provided always, and be it enacted, That nothing herein-before contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to any parish apprentice, but to such only as shall be living with, and shall make part of the family, or shall be in the actual employment, of such original master or mistress, or of any subsequent master or mistress, appointed under and by virtue of the several provisions of this act, at the time of the death of any such master or mistress respectively.

Act to extend to such parish apprentices only as shall be living with the master.

“VI. And whereas much difficulty and delay must necessarily happen in bringing an action upon the covenant for maintenance before-mentioned contained in any such indenture of parish apprentices;” Be it enacted, That in any case such original master or mistress as aforesaid, or any master or mistress appointed under or by virtue of this act, shall, during the term of any such parish apprenticeship as aforesaid, or if the executors or administrators of such masters or mistresses, any or either of them having assets, shall, during such three calendar months as aforesaid, refuse or neglect to maintain and provide for any such apprentice, according to the terms of such covenant, it shall and may be lawful for any two justices of the peace of the county, city, town, riding, division, or place in which the parish or place shall lie, to which such apprentice shall belong, on complaint of such apprentice, or of the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of such parish or place, by warrant under their hands and seals, to levy, by distress and sale of the personal estate and effects or assets of such master or mistress respectively, such sum or sums of money as shall be necessary for the maintenance and clothing of such apprentice and as shall also be necessary to reimburse to the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of such parish or place, any sum or sums of money that shall have been reasonably expended by them for that purpose.

Justices may order the necessary sums for maintenance and clothing of apprentices to be levied by distress.

“VII. And whereas it frequently happens that persons are compellable, under and by virtue of the said act of the ninth and tenth years of King William, to take a greater number of parish apprentices than it is convenient for them to maintain or employ in their own families, and they are therefore forced to place out or assign over such apprentices to other persons; and it is proper that such assignment should be legally made, under the inspection and controul of the magistrates, as well for the benefit of the apprentice, as that the original master

IX. Provided always, and be it enacted, That nothing hereinbefore contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to the indenture made on the binding of any apprentice, by the churchwardens or overseers of the poor of any parish or place, or the major part of them, under and by virtue of the powers given to them by the statute made in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, in the case of any such binding, where a larger sum than five pounds shall be given, but that such bindings shall be subject and liable to the like rules and regulations as they would have been subject and liable to in case this act had not been made.

Not to extend to apprentices with whom more than 5l. shall be given.

X. Provided always, and be it enacted, That no indorsement or indorsements on any parish indenture of apprenticeship hereinbefore mentioned, made or executed in pursuance of this act, shall be charged or chargeable with any duty imposed upon stamped vellum, parchment, and paper, but the same shall be, and are hereby declared to be exempted therefrom, and that no other instrument or instruments in writing hereinbefore mentioned, shall be charged or chargeable with any higher duty than with the duty imposed or to be imposed on parish indentures of apprenticeship.

No indorsement on parish indentures to be liable to stamp duty, and no other instruments to be charged higher than the duty on parish indentures.

And whereas, by an act passed in the twentieth year of the reign of King George the Second, intituled, An act for the better adjusting and more easy recovery of the wages of certain servants, and for the better regulation of such servants, and of certain apprentices, it is enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for any two or more justices, upon any complaint or application by any apprentice put out by the parish, touching or concerning any misusage, refusal of necessary provisions, cruelty, or other ill-treatment, of or towards such apprentice, by his or her master or mistress, and due proof thereof, to discharge such apprentice from his or her apprenticeship; And whereas instances of such ill-treatment frequently the poor, any or either of them, together with the reasonable expenses of such distress.

"XII. And whereas it is not expedient that such master or mistress should be again entrusted with the care of another parish apprentice;" Be it enacted, That in every case where any parish apprentice shall have been so discharged from any master or mistress as aforesaid under and by virtue of the said last mentioned act, and such master and mistress shall have been convicted of such offence, in consequence of such prosecution by indictment as aforesaid, or shall have been found guilty thereof in any action brought at the suit of the party injured, it shall not be lawful for the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of any parish or place, or the major part of them, to bind any other apprentice upon such person; but that whenever such person ought or would be compellable to take a parish apprentice, it shall and may be lawful for any two justices of the peace of the county, city, town, riding, division, or place where such person shall reside, upon application made to them by the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of such parish or place, to order and direct that such person shall pay into the hands of such churchwardens and overseers of the poor, some or one of them, a sum not exceeding the sum of ten pounds nor less than five pounds, for the purpose of binding out the child (intended to be bound) an apprentice, with the approbation of such two justices; and in case such person should refuse to pay such sum as aforesaid, that then it shall and may be lawful for such two justices, by warrant under their hands and seals, to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such person, together with the reasonable expenses of such distress: Provided always, that it shall and may be lawful for such master or mistress as aforesaid, from whom any parish apprentice shall be discharged under and by virtue of the act, made in the twentieth year of the reign of King George the Second, to appeal against the order made for such discharge as aforesaid, and also against any such order made for his or her payment of any such sum or sums of money in consequence thereof as aforesaid, or for his or her payment of any sum or sums of money in lieu of a subsequent binding, under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, to the next general quarter sessions of the peace of the county, city, riding, division,

Justices may order any master convicted under the last recited act, when liable to take a parish apprentice, to pay to the parish officers a sum not exceeding 10*l.* nor less than 5*l.* for the purpose of binding out the child, &c.

“WHEREAS by an act, passed in the thirteenth and fourteenth years of the reign of King Charles the Second, intituled, An act for the better relief of the poor of this kingdom, reciting, that whereas, by reason of some defects in the law, poor people are not restrained from going from one parish to another, and therefore do endeavour to settle themselves in those parishes where there is the best stock, the largest commons or wastes to build cottages, and the most woods for them to burn and destroy; and when they have consumed it then to another parish, and at last become rogues and vagabonds, to the great discouragement of parishes to provide stocks where it is liable to be devoured by strangers; for remedy whereof it is thereby, amongst other things, enacted, That it shall and may be lawful, upon complaint made by the churchwardens or overseers of the poor of any parish, to any justice of the peace, within forty days after any such person or persons coming so to settle as aforesaid, in any tenement under the yearly value of ten pounds, for any two justices of the peace, whereof one to be of the quorum, of the division where any person or persons that are likely to be chargeable to the parish shall come to inhabit, by their warrant, to remove and convey such person or persons to such parish where he or they were last legally settled, either as a native, householder, sojourner, apprentice, or servant for the space of forty days at the least, unless he or they give sufficient security for the discharge of the said parish, to be allowed by the said justices:

And whereas many industrious poor persons, chargeable to the parish, township, or place where they live merely from want of work there, would in any other place, where sufficient employment is to be had, maintain themselves and families without being burthensome to any parish, township, or place; and such poor persons are for the most part compelled to live in their own parishes, townships, or places, and are not permitted to inhabit elsewhere, under pretence that they are likely to become chargeable to the parish, township, or place, into which they go for the purpose of getting employment, although the labour of such poor persons might, in many instances, be very beneficial to such parish, township, or place: And whereas the remedy intended to be applied thereto, by the granting of certificates, in pursuance of the act passed in the eight and ninth years of the reign of King William the third, intituled, An act for supplying some defects in the laws for the relief of the poor of this kingdom, hath been found very ineffectual, and it is necessary that other provisions should be made relating thereto: Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this act, so much of the said in part recited act of the thirteenth and fourteenth years of King Charles the Second, as enables the justices to remove any person or persons that are likely to be chargeable to the parish, township, or place, into which they shall come to inhabit, shall be and the same is hereby repealed; and, that from thenceforth no poor person shall be removed, by virtue of any order of removal, from the parish or place where such poor person shall be inhabiting, to the place of his or her last legal settlement; until such person shall have become actually chargeable to the parish, township, or place, in which such person shall then inhabit, in which case two justices of the peace are hereby empowered to remove the person or persons, in the same manner, and subject to the same appeal, and with the same powers, as might have been done before the passing of this act with respect to persons likely to become chargeable.

So much of recited act as enables justices to remove persons likely to be chargeable to parishes, repealed; and no persons to be removed till they become chargeable.

"II. And whereas poor persons are often removed or passed to the place of their settlement during the time of their sickness,

Justices may suspend the removal of sick person to the great danger of their lives:" for remedy whereof, be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That in case any poor person shall from henceforth be brought before any justice or justices of the peace, for the purpose of being removed from the place where he or she is inhabiting or sojourning, by virtue of any order of removal, or of being passed by virtue of any vagrant pass, and it shall appear to the said justice or justices that such poor person is unable to travel, by reason of sickness or other infirmity, or that it would be dangerous for him or her so to do, the justice or justices making such order of removal, or granting such vagrant pass, are hereby required and authorized to suspend the execution of the same until they are satisfied that it may safely be executed, without danger to any person who is the subject thereof: which suspension of, and subsequent permission to execute the same, shall be respectively indorsed on the said order of removal or vagrant pass, and signed by such justice or justices: And no act done by any such poor person continuing to reside in any parish, township, or place, under the suspension of any such order shall be effectual, either in the whole or in part, for the purpose of giving him or her a settlement in the same; and the charges proved upon oath to have been incurred by such suspension of any order of removal may, by the said justices, be directed to be paid by the churchwardens and overseers of the parish or place to which such poor person is ordered to be removed, in case any removal shall take place, or in case of the death of such poor person before the execution of such order: and if the churchwardens or overseers of the parish, township, or place, to which the order of removal shall be made, or any or either of them, shall, upon the removal or death of such poor person ordered to be removed, refuse or neglect to pay the said charges within three days after demand thereof, and shall not within the same time give notice of appeal as is hereinafter mentioned, it shall and may be lawful for one justice of the peace, by warrant under his hand and seal, to cause the money mentioned in such order to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person or persons so refusing or neglecting payment of the same, and also such costs attending the same, not exceeding forty shillings, as such justice shall direct; and if the parish, township, or place, to which the removal of such poor person is made or was ordered to be made, before the death

V. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That every person who shall have been convicted of larceny, or any other felony, or who by the laws now in being shall be deemed a rogue, vagabond, idle, or disorderly person, or who shall appear to any two or more justices of the peace of the division wherein such person shall reside, upon the oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses to be a person of evil fame, or a reputed thief, such person not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself or herself, or of his or her way of living, shall be considered as a person actually chargeable within the true intent and meaning of this act, to the parish in which such person shall reside, and shall be liable to be removed to the parish of his or her last legal settlement by the order of the said justices of the peace, whereof one to be of the quorum of the division where any such person shall reside.

An Act for the better Relief of the Poor within the several Hundreds, Towns, and Districts, in that Part of Great Britain called England, incorporated by divers Acts of Parliament for the Purpose of the better Maintenance and Employment of the Poor; and for enlarging the Powers of the Guardians of the Poor within the said several Hundreds, Towns, and Districts, as to the Assessments to be made upon the several Parishes, Hamlets, and Places, within their respective Hundreds, Towns, and Districts, for the Support and Maintenance of the Poor. [18th December 1795.]

WHEREAS several acts of parliament have of late years been made and passed, for the better relief and employment of the poor in particular incorporated hundreds, towns, and districts, within that part of Great Britain called England: And whereas certain persons, described and appointed by the said several acts, are thereby empowered to assess the several parishes, hamlets, and places, chargeable to the poor's rate within the said several hundreds, towns, or districts respectively, in such sums of money as they shall think necessary for defraying the expences of supporting and maintaining the poor within their respective hundreds, towns, and districts, and for other the purposes of the said acts; but such sums of money, for which such assessments are to be made, are by the said several acts of parliament limited so as that they may not exceed a certain sum in any one year, which sum was calculated upon an average of the amount of the poor's rates in each parish respectively, for a certain number of years previous to the passing of the respective incorporating acts: And whereas, by reason of the late very great increase of the price of corn, and other necessary articles of life, the amount of the rates and assessments, so limited by the said several acts of parliament, are become insufficient for the necessary relief and maintenance of the poor, who have also of late greatly increased in number: And whereas in many incorporated hundreds, towns, and districts, the expence of maintaining the poor, since the first day of January one thousand thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, has exceeded the whole amount of the rates which could be raised in the present year within those hundreds, towns, and districts, under their respective incorporating acts; whereby considerable debts have on that account been incurred by the guardians of the poor of those hundreds, towns, and districts: And it is therefore become necessary and expedient that the powers of the several persons to whom it is committed, by the said several acts of parliament, the duty of appointing the sums to be assessed on the several parishes, hamlets, and places within their respective hundreds, towns, and districts, should be enlarged: May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the directors and acting guardians of the poor within any hundred, town, or district, in that part of Great Britain called England, incorporated by any act of parliament for the relief or maintenance and employment of the poor, or for any other persons, by whatsoever name they are called or described, to whom is given, by any such incorporating act, the power of appointing the sum or sums to be assessed on the several parishes, hamlets, or places, within their respective hundreds, towns, or districts, for the maintenance of the poor, and other the purposes of such act, at any of their annual, quarterly, or other general meetings, whenever the average price of wheat at the corn market in Mark Lane, London, for the quarter immediately preceding such annual, quarterly, or other general meeting, shall have exceeded the average price of wheat at the same market during those years from which the average amount of the poor's rates was taken upon the passing of the several incorporating acts respectively, to assess the several parishes, hamlets, and places within their respective hundreds, towns, or districts, which now are or usually have been charged to the poor's rates, in such respective sums of money as the said directors and acting guardians, or such other persons as aforesaid, shall think necessary for defraying the expences attending the support and maintenance of the poor for the current quarter, and for paying the interest of the money borrowed borrowed and due by virtue of the said respective acts, and of any debts which may have been incurred since the first day of January one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, in the maintenance of the poor, and for other the purposes of the said acts notwithstanding such sums of money so to be assessed should exceed the amount of the assessments limited by such respective acts of parliament to be assessed on the respective parishes, hamlets, and places within such incorporated hundreds, towns, or district, in any one year. Provided always that the sums to be assessed, and the assessments to be made by virtue of this act, in each respective incorporated hundred, town, or district, shall be assessed, made, collected, and paid in the same manner, and subject to the same restrictions, regulations, limitations, and powers of appeal and with the like powers and remedies for compelling payment thereof, as the sums to be assessed, and the assessments to be made, by virtue of the several incorporating act, are by those respective acts directed to be assessed, collected, and made, within the several hundreds, towns, and districts respectively incorporated by those acts. Provided also that the sums to be assessed by virtue of this act, upon any parish, hamlet, or place, shall be in the same rates and proportions as the assessments which have hitherto been made and levied by virtue of the said act or acts incorporating the several hundreds, towns, or districts in which such parishes, hamlets, or places are respectively situated: And provided also, that, from and after the first day of January one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, the sums to be assessed by virtue of this act, on any parish, hamlet, or place, shall never exceed, in any one year the amount of double the sum at present raised by virtue of any incorporating act now existing.

Directors and acting guardians of the poor, incorporated by acts of parliament, may, in certain cases, make such assessments as may be necessary for the support and maintenance of the poor, &c. notwithstanding they may exceed the assessments limited by the respective acts.

“ WHEREAS, by an act passed in the ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the First, intituled, An act for amending the laws relating to the settlement, employment, and relief of the poor, it is (among other things) enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the churchwardens and overseers of the poor, in any parish, town, township, or place, with the consent of the major part of the parishioners or inhabitants thereof in vestry or other parish or publick meeting for that purpose assembled, or of so many of them as shall be so assembled, upon usual notice thereof first given, to purchase or hire any house or houses in the same parish, township or place, and to contract with any person or persons for the lodging, keeping, maintaining, and employing, any or all such poor, in their respective parishes, townships, or places, as shall desire to receive relief or collection from the same parish. and there to keep, maintain, and employ, all such persons, and take the benefit of the work, labour, and service, of any such poor person or persons, who shall be kept and maintained in any such house or houses for the maintenance and relief of such poor person or persons who shall be there kept and maintained; and in case any poor person or persons of any parish, town, township or place, when such house or houses shall be so purchased or hired, shall refuse to be lodged, kept, or maintained, in such house or houses, such poor person or persons so refusing shall be put out of the book or books where the names of the persons who ought to receive collection in the said parish, town, township, or place, are to be registered, and shall not be entitled to ask or receive collection or relief from the churchwardens and overseers of the same parish, town, or township: And whereas the said provision contained in the act above-mentioned has been found to have been and to be inconvenient and oppressive, inasmuch as it often prevents an industrious poor person from receiving such occasional relief as is best suited to the peculiar case of such poor person, and inasmuch as in certain cases it holds out conditions of relief injurious to the comfort and domestick situation and happiness of such poor persons: Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the overseer or overseers of any parish, town, township, or place, with the approbation of the parishioners, or the majority of them, in vestry, or other usual place of meeting assembled, or with the approbation in writing of any of His Majesty's justice or justices of the peace usually acting in and for the respective district, to distribute and pay collection and relief to any industrious poor person or persons at his, her, or their homes, house or houses, under certain circumstances of temporary illness or distress, and in certain cases respecting such poor person, or his, her, or their family, or respecting the situation, health, or condition of any poor-house or poor-houses, in any parish, town, township, or place, wherein a house or houses shall have been or shall be so hired, built, or purchased, and a contract made with any person or persons for lodging, keeping, maintaining, and employing, any or all poor persons who shall desire to receive collection or relief, although such poor person or persons shall refuse to be lodged, kept and maintained, within such house or houses: any thing in the said act passed in the ninth year of His Majesty King George the First, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Overseers with the approbation of the parishioners or any justice, may relieve poor persons at their own homes.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall and may be lawful for any of His Majesty's justice or justices of the peace for any county, city, town, or place, usually acting in and for the district wherein the same shall be situated, at his or their just and proper discretion, to direct and order collection and relief to any industrious poor person or persons, and he, she, or they

And whereas by the said act all the churchwardens and overseers of the poor are directed to pay to the guardians of the poor in parishes not united, and to the treasurer in parishes united as therein mentioned, such sums as may be necessary for the support of the poor in manner therein mentioned, and the guardians are also directed to pay to the treasurer of the poor house the sums required for the maintenance and support thereof, which in default of payment may be levied by warrant of distress and sale of the goods of such guardians under the hand of a justice of the peace; but no provision is made to enforce the payment of the monies directed to be paid by the churchwardens and overseers aforesaid: Be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the guardians of the poor present at a monthly meeting held according to the directions of the said act, with the approbation of the visitor, who shall sign the same, to make an order on the churchwardens or overseers or collector of the poor's rates, some or one of them, for so much money as shall be necessary for the purposes of the said act; and if the churchwardens or overseers, or person or persons to whom the order shall be directed, shall neglect or refuse to pay the same to the treasurer or guardian to whom the same

Two justices may, on application, appoint a treasurer for a single parish, with a salary not exceeding 10 l.

Persons aggrieved may appeal to the next quarter sessions.

V. And be it further enacted, That this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act, and shall be judicially taken notice of as such, by all judges, justices, and other persons whomsoever, without specially pleading the same.

An Act for the better Collection of Rates made for the Relieving the Poor. [18th April 1801.]

c 38.

WHEREAS by an act of parliament made and passed in the seventeenth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled, An Act for remedying some defects in the act made in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled, 'An act for the relief of the poor' power was given to justices of the peace, upon appeals from rates and assessments, where they should see just cause to give relief, to amend the same in such manner only as should be necessary for giving such relief, without altering such rates or assessments with respect to other persons mentioned in the same: And whereas the quashing or setting aside of rates or assessments made for the relief of the poor, is attended with great inconvenience; and it hath happened, in consequence of the rate or assessment being quashed or set aside, or of notice of appeal against the whole rate being given, the churchwardens and overseers of the poor have not had any money in hand for the relief and maintenance of the poor." For remedy whereof, may it please Your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this act, upon all appeals from any rate or assessment made for the relief of the poor of any parish, township, vill, or place, the court of general or quarter sessions of the peace shall, and such court is hereby authorized and required (in all cases where they shall see just cause to give relief) to amend such rate or assessment, either by inserting therein or striking out the names of any persons or persons, or by altering the sum or sums therein charged on any person or persons, or in any other manner which the said court shall think necessary for giving such relief, and, without quashing or wholly setting aside such rate or assessment: Provided always, that

On appeal from any poor rate, the quarter sessions may amend it without quashing it, if it seems any cause to give relief in any such rate, by the sum assessed shall not be less than

if the said court shall be of opinion that it is necessary, for the purpose of giving relief to the person or persons appealing, that the rate or assessment should be wholly quashed, then the said court may quash the same; but nevertheless, all and every the sum and sums of money in and by such rate or assessment charged on any person or persons, shall and may be levied and recovered by such ways and means, and in such and the same manner, as if no appeal had been made against such rate or assessment; and all and every the sum and sums of money which any person or persons charged in such rate or assessment shall pay, or which shall be levied upon or recovered from him, her, or them, shall be deemed and taken as payments, on account of the next effective rate or rates, assessment or assessments, which shall be made for the relief of the poor of the same parish, township, vill, or place.

II. And be it further enacted, That from and after the passing of this act, all and every the sum and sums of money at which any person or persons is or are or shall be rated or assessed, in any rate or assessment made for the relief of the poor of any parish, township, vill, or place, shall and may be levied and recovered by distress, and all other lawful ways and means, notwithstanding the persons or persons so rated or assessed, or any other person or persons, shall have given notice of appeal from or against such rate or assessment, for any cause whatsoever: Provided always, that if any person, rated or assessed in any rate or assessment, made for the relief of the poor, shall give such notice of appeal as hereinafter mentioned, to the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of any parish, township, vill, or place, or any two of them, then, from and after the giving of such notice, and until the appeal shall have been heard and determined, no proceedings shall be commenced or carried on to recover any greater sum or sums of money from such person or persons, than the sum or sums at which he, she, or they, or any occupier of the same premises, shall have been rated or assessed in the last effective rate which shall have been collected in such parish, township, vill, or place.

III. And be it further enacted, That in case the said court of general or quarter sessions of the peace shall upon appeal order any rate or assessment for the relief of the poor to be

IV. And he it further enacted, That, from and after the passing of this act, all notices of appeal from or against any rate or assessment made for the relief of the poor, or from or against the account of the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of any parish, township, vill, or place, shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the person or persons giving the same, or his, her, or their attorney or his, her, or their behalf, and such notices of appeal shall be delivered to or left at the places of abode of the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of the parish, township, vill, or place, or any two of them, and the particular causes or grounds of appeal shall be stated and specified in such notice; and upon the hearing of any appeal from or against any such rate or assessment, or account, the court of general or quarter sessions to which such appeal shall be made, shall not examine or inquire into any other cause or ground of appeal than such as are or is stated and specified in the notice of appeal.

Provided nevertheless, and be it further enacted, That, with the consent of the overseers, signified by them or their attorney in open court, and with the consent of any other person interested therein, the said court or sessions may proceed to hear and decide upon such appeal, although no notice thereof shall have been given in writing, and also that with the like consent such court may hear and decide upon grounds

VI. And be it further enacted, That, from and after the passing of this act, if any person or persons shall appeal against any rate or assessment made for the relief of the poor, because any other person or persons is or are rated or assessed in such rate or assessment, or is or are omitted to be rated or assessed therein, or because any other person or persons is or are rated or assessed in any such rate or assessment at any greater or less sum or sums of money than the sum or sums at which he, she, or they ought to be rated or assessed therein, or for any other cause that may require any alteration to be made in such rate or assessment with respect to any other person or persons, then, and in every such case the person or persons so appealing for the causes aforesaid, or any of them, shall give such notice of appeal, in writing as hereinbefore mentioned, not only to the churchwardens or overseers of the poor, or any two or more of them, but also to the other person or persons so interested or concerned in the event of such appeal as aforesaid; and such other person or persons shall, if he, she, or they shall so desire, be heard upon the said appeal; and it shall be lawful for the court of general or quarter sessions of the peace, on the hearing of such appeal, to order the name or names of such other person or persons to be inserted in such rate or assessment, and him, her, or them to be therein rated and assessed at any sum or sums of money, or to order the name or names of such other person or persons to be struck out of such rate or assessment, or the sum or sums at which he, she, or they is or are rated or assessed therein, to be altered, in such manner as the said court shall think right; and the proper officer of the said court shall forthwith add to or alter the rate or assessment accordingly.

VII. And be it further enacted, That if upon the hearing of any appeal from or against any rate or assessment, the said court shall order the name or names of any person or persons to be inserted therein, and him, her, or them to be rated or assessed at any sum or sums of money, or shall order the sum or sums at which any person or persons is or are therein rated or assessed to be raised or increased, then, and in such case, in and every the sum and sums of money, at or to which such person or persons shall be so ordered to be rated or assessed, or to be raised or increased, or so much thereof as

In case in the rate the name of any person shall be struck out, or any sum lowered, the quarter sessions shall order the money, which ought not to have been recovered, to be repaid.

VIII. And be it enacted, That if upon the hearing of any appeal from any rate or assessment for the relief of the poor, the court of general or quarter sessions of the peace shall order the name or names of any person or persons to be struck out of such rate or assessment, or the sum or sums rated or assessed on any person or persons to be decreased or lowered; and if it shall be made appear to the said court, that such person or persons hath or have, previously to the hearing of such appeal, paid any sum or sums of money, in consequence of such rate or assessment, which he, she, or they ought not to have paid, or been charged with, then and in every such case the said court shall order all and every such sum and sums of money to be repaid and returned, by the said churchwardens and overseers of the poor, to the person or persons having paid the same respectively, together with all reasonable costs, charges, and expences, occasioned by such person or persons having paid or been required to pay the same; and all and every the sum and sums of money so ordered to be repaid or returned by the churchwardens and overseers of the poor, or any of them, shall and may, together with all such costs, charges, and expences as aforesaid, be levied and recovered from them, or any of them, by distress and all such other ways and means as the money charged, rated, or assessed on any person, by any rate or assessment made for the relief of the poor, can or may be by law levied or recovered.

And whereas it may have happened that the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of some parishes, townships, villa, or places, have not been able to collect a sum of money sufficient for the relief and maintenance of the poor within or belonging to the same, but they, or the guardian or guardians of the poor of such parishes, townships, villa, or places, have heretofore actually advanced and expended considerable sums for that purpose; Be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of any parish, township, villa, or place, or any of them, out of any money which they or any of them shall collect or receive by virtue, or in pursuance of any rate or assessment made for the relief

The overseers of the poor shall, after June 1. keep a book for entering the name of every apprentice bound out by them, and each entry shall be signed by two justices, according to the form in the schedule.

An Act to amend an Act, made in the Twenty-second Year of the Reign of His present Majesty, for the better Relief and Employment of the Poor, so far as relates to the Payment of the Debts incurred for building any Poor House. [22d June 1802.]

12 Geo. III.
c. 83.

“WHEREAS by an act, made in the twenty-second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An act for the better relief and employment of the poor, it was, among other things, enacted, that in case any money should be borrowed, under the powers of the said act, for the building any poor-house or workhouse, or purchasing any land necessary to be used for that purpose, the assessments for the relief of the poor should continue at the same rates they were when such poor-house or workhouse was first established, until the debts so contracted, and the interest thereof, should be fully discharged: And whereas the said provision has been found highly burthensome and oppressive to such parishes as have adopted the provisions of the said act, from the necessity there has been, on account of the late high price of provisions, to impose heavy rates for the relief of the poor during the last two years: Be it therefore enacted by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the guardians of the poor of any parish, who have erected any poor-house or workhouse under the powers of the said recited act, shall, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, with the consent of the several persons to whom the same shall be due and payable, yearly and every year to pay off and discharge any part of the money borrowed under the powers of the said recited act, not being less than one-twentieth part thereof, besides the interest which may be payable on the sum remaining undischarged; and in case such sum so to be paid off shall not in any one year be sufficient to discharge any one of the notes for fifty pounds, issued pursuant to the directions of the said act for securing the money

The guardian of the poor of any parish who have erected any workhouse under the recited act, shall, with the consent of the persons to whom payable, pay off yearly not less than one-twentieth part of the money borrowed. Money to remain in overseers

An act for consolidating and amending the several Laws for providing Relief for the Families of Militia Men of England, when called out into actual Service.

[27th May 1803.]

“ WHEREAS it is expedient that many of the provisions contained in several acts relating to the relief directed to be given to the non-commissioned officers, drummers, fifers, and privates, serving in the militia for England should be repealed, and others of them continued and amended, and that new provisions should be made; and it would greatly tend to the better execution thereof, if the whole of the said provisions were comprized in one act of parliament: And whereas it is necessary for the purposes aforesaid, that certain acts and parts of acts now in force should be repealed;” Be it therefore enacted by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That, from and after the passing of this act, an act passed in the thirty-third year of the reign of His present Majesty, (intituled, An act to provide for the families of persons chosen by lot to serve in the militia of this kingdom, and of substitutes serving therein; and to explain and amend an act of parliament, passed in the twenty-sixth year of His present Majesty, intituled, ‘An act for amending and reducing into one act of parliament, the laws relating to the militia in that part of Great Britain called England;’) and also an act, passed in the thirty-fourth year of the reign of His present Majesty, (intituled, An act to amend an act, passed

Wives of non-commissioned officers or soldiers, on making proof of not being permitted to embark with their husbands, shall receive from the nearest chief magistrate a like certificate of their place of settlement, which will entitle them to ask relief while in their route, &c.

An Act to explain and amend an Act, made in the last Session of Parliament, intituled, An Act to amend an Act, made in the Twenty-second Year of the Reign of His present Majesty, for the better Relief and Employment of the Poor, so far as relates to the Payment of the Debts incurred for building any Poor House.

[27th July 1803.]

42 Geo. I. c. 89.

“WHEREAS by an act made in the twenty-second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An act for the better relief and employment of the poor, it was among other things enacted, that in case any money should be borrowed under the powers of the said act, for the building any poor-house or workhouse, or purchasing any land necessary to be used for that purpose, the assessments for the relief of the poor should continue at the same rate they were when such poor-house or workhouse was first established, until the debts so contracted, and the interest thereof, should be fully discharged: And whereas by an act, made in the forty-second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An act to amend an act, made in the twenty-second year of the reign of His present Majesty, for the better relief and employment of the poor, so far as relates to the payment of the debts incurred for building any poor-house, it was enacted, that the guardians of the poor of any parish who had erected any poor-house or workhouse, under the powers of the said therein recited act, should, with the consent of the several persons to whom the same should be due and payable, yearly and every year, pay off and discharge any part of the money borrowed under the

the powers of the said recited act of the twenty-second year of the reign of His present Majesty, not being less than one-twentieth part thereof, besides the interest which might be payable on the sum remaining undischarged: and in case such sum to be paid off should not in any one year be sufficient to discharge any one of the notes for fifty pounds issued pursuant to the directions of the said recited act, for securing the money borrowed under the authority thereof, the same should from time to time remain in the hands of the overseers of the poor of such parish until it amounted to a sufficient sum to pay off and discharge any of the said notes: And whereas doubts are entertained whether the said recited act of the forty-second year of His present Majesty's reign has effectually relieved such parishes as have adopted the provision in the said act of the twenty-second year of His present Majesty's reign from the burthensome effects thereof;" Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual, and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That so much of the said recited act, of the twenty-second year of His present Majesty's reign, as requires that the assessments for the relief of the poor shall continue at the same rate as they were when any poor-house or workhouse was first established under the authority of the said recited act, until the debt contracted, and the interest thereof, should be fully discharged, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed.

II. And be it enacted, That such assessments shall and may from time to time be diminished to such amount as shall be deemed proper and necessary: Provided always, that the guardians of the poor, for the time being, of every such parish, shall yearly and every year, pay off or provide for a twentieth part at least of any monies which shall have been borrowed for the purpose aforesaid, under the powers of the said act of the twenty-second year of His present Majesty's reign, and also shall duly keep down the interest of all monies which shall be so borrowed; any thing in the said recited acts of the twenty-second and forty-second years of His present Majesty's reign, or either of them, contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

So much of 2^d Geo III. c. 83. as requires that the assessments shall continue at the same rate as they were when any workhouse was established, until the debt should be discharged, shall be repealed.

Assessments may be diminished. Guardians of the poor shall pay off a twentieth part of the borrowed money under 22 Geo. III. c. 83.

An Act to render Justices of the Peace more safe in the Execution of their Duty. [11th August 1803.]

“WHEREAS it is expedient that justices of the peace in Great Britain and Ireland respectively, who, by virtue of divers acts of parliament in force in the United Kingdom, are authorized and required to convict persons of sundry offences in a summary way, should be rendered more safe in the execution of such their duty;” Be it therefore enacted, by the King’s most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That in all actions whatsoever which shall, at any time after the passing of this act, be brought against any justice or justices of the peace in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, for or on account of any conviction by him or them had or made, under or by virtue of any act or acts of parliament in force in the said United Kingdom, or for or by reason of any act, matter, or thing whatsoever, done or commanded to be done by such justice or justices, for the levying of any penalty, apprehending any party, or for or about the carrying of any such conviction into effect; in case such conviction shall have been quashed, the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action or actions, besides the value and amount of the penalty or penalties which may have been levied upon the said plaintiff or plaintiffs, in case any levy thereof shall have been made, shall not be entitled to recover any more or greater damages than the sum of twopence, nor any costs of suit whatsoever, unless it shall be expressly alleged in the declaration in the action wherein the recovery shall be had, and which shall be in an action upon the case only, that such acts were done maliciously and without any reasonable and probable cause.

In actions brought against justices on account of conviction, &c. the plaintiff, beside any penalty that may be levied upon him, shall be entitled only to 2d. damages, unless alleged in the declaration the thing was maliciously done.

Plaintiff not entitled to recover if proved that the offence was committed.

II. And be it further enacted, That such plaintiff shall not be entitled to recover against such justice any penalty which shall have been levied, nor any damages or costs whatsoever, in case such justice shall prove at the trial that such plaintiff was guilty of the offence whereof he had been con-convicted, or on account of which he had been apprehended, or had otherwise suffered, and that he had undergone no greater punishment than was assigned by law to such offence.

respective parishes in gaols, houses of correction, poor-houses, and houses of industry, is highly dangerous and inconvenient: And whereas it is expedient that further provision should be made for the care and maintenance of such persons, and for the erecting proper houses for their reception, and also for erecting additional buildings adjoining or contiguous thereto for the reception of other lunatics: And whereas it is also expedient that further provision should be made for the custody of insane persons who shall commit criminal offences;" Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That it shall and may be lawful for the justices of the peace in and for every county within England and Wales, at their respective general quarter sessions of the peace, or any adjournment of the same, or the major part of such justices then and there assembled, to direct notice to be given in some public newspaper or newspapers circulated in or near such county, of their intention of taking into consideration, at their next general quarter or general annual sessions, the expediency and propriety of providing a lunatic asylum or house for the reception of lunatics and other insane persons within the said county, or of appointing a committee of magistrates to treat with any one or more of the adjacent counties to unite for that purpose:

Justices may give notice respecting the erecting lunatic asylums.

and also committee of justices:

III. And be it further enacted, That in all cases where it shall appear expedient to the justices of the peace in and for any any county to unite with any one or more adjacent county or counties for the purposes of this act, and for the providing a lunatic asylum to serve for the said several counties, it shall and may be lawful for the said justices, at their respective general quarter sessions, (whereof due notice shall be given, as aforesaid), to nominate and appoint any number of justices not exceeding five, to be a committee for treating with any adjacent county or counties for that purpose.

IV. And be it further enacted, That where the committees of justices so appointed by any two or more counties, shall think fit to unite the said counties for the purposes of this act, and shall signify their inclination and desire so to do at a meeting holden for that purpose, an agreement shall at such meeting, or as soon as conveniently may be afterwards, be entered into by the said justices so appointed as aforesaid, or the major part of them, in the form or to the effect set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed (N^o 1.); which agreement, when subscribed by the major part of the justices so nominated and appointed for each county, shall be binding upon the said counties; and every such agreement shall specify the place at or near which such lunatic asylum, shall be situate, and the proportions in which the expences necessary for the carrying into execution the purposes of this act shall be charged and assessed upon the several counties so uniting, which proportions shall be calculated by the said justices so appointed upon the numbers of the respective population of the said several counties, as stated in the returns to an act passed in the forty-first year of His Majesty's reign, intituled, An act for taking an account of the population of Great Britain, and of the increase and diminution thereof; and the said agreement shall also specify the number of visiting justices to superintend the building, erection, and management of the said lunatic asylum to be appointed by each of the respective counties so uniting, which number shall be in proportion to the share of the expences so to be charged and assessed upon each of such respective counties, but so that a number less than three shall in no case be appointed for any county so united.

VI. And be it further enacted, That the said visiting justices so nominated and appointed by such county sole or such united counties, are hereby authorized and required, within two calendar months after such nomination and appointment as aforesaid, to meet and assemble at such place as shall appear to them most convenient for that purpose (due notice thereof being previously given to such visiting justices by the clerk or clerks of the peace of such county or counties respectively), and that the said visiting justices may adjourn the said meeting from time to time or from place to place, and meet as often as they shall think necessary; and the said visiting justices or the major part of them are hereby authorized at their said meetings to appoint a clerk and a surveyor for duly exercising the powers of this act, and from time to time to receive plans and estimates, and contract for the purchase of lands and buildings, or for the alteration of any building already belonging to such county or any of such united counties, and for building, erecting, altering, furnishing, and completing such lunatic asylum, and the yards, courts, and outlets thereto belonging, and such contract or contracts shall be made and entered into at the most reasonable rates, and with the most responsible persons; and every such contractor shall give sufficient security for the due performance of his contract to the clerk to such visiting justices; and all contracts when made, and all orders relating thereto, shall be entered in a book to be kept by the clerk to such visiting justices, and when such asylum shall be declared to be completed in manner hereinafter directed, then such book shall be deposited and kept among the records of such county sole, or of such of the counties so united for the purposes of this act as shall have paid the largest quota or proportion

VII. And, in order to defray the expences necessary for the execution of this act, be it further enacted, That the justices of the peace at their general quarter sessions may and shall cause such sums of money as shall have been from time to time reported to them to be necessary for that purpose by the visiting justices, to be raised in such manner as rates are directed to be raised by two acts made in the twelfth and thirteenth years of His late Majesty King George the Second, for the more easy assessing, collecting, and levying of county rates, or shall order and direct the same to be paid out of the ordinary rate of such county.

issue warrants, upon the application of the overseers of the poor of any parish situate within such county or district of counties for the conveyance of any lunatic, insane person, or dangerous idiot who may be chargeable to such parish, to such asylum, there to be safely kept until he or she shall be duly discharged as hereinafter directed; and at the time of such issuing such warrant every such justice shall also make an order upon the overseers of the poor of the parish to which such lunatic, insane person, or dangerous idiot shall belong, to pay such weekly sum to the treasurer of such asylum, as shall, from time to time, be fixed upon by the visiting justices as a fit rate for the maintenance, medicine, cloathing and care of such persons.

XVIII. And be it further enacted, That if any overseer of the poor of any parish shall wilfully neglect or delay to give information to such justice of the peace of any such lunatic or insane person who shall be chargeable to such parish, or to make application for such warrant as aforesaid, during the space of seven days from the time that he shall be acquainted that such person is so lunatic or insane, he shall for every such offence forfeit and pay a sum of money not exceeding ten pounds, nor less than forty shillings, to be recovered by distress and sale of the offender's goods and chattels, by warrant under the hands and seals of any two justices of the peace acting for the county within which such parish shall be situated, which warrant such justices are hereby required to grant upon the confession of the party, or upon the information of any witness or witnesses upon oath (which oath such justices are hereby empowered to administer); and the said penalty, after the charges of recovering the same shall be deducted, shall be paid, one moiety to the informer, and the other to the treasurer of the said asylum, to be applied to the use of the same.

And whereas by an act passed in the seventeenth year of the reign of King George the second, intituled, An act to amend and make more effectual the laws relating to rogues, vagabonds, and other idle and disorderly persons, and to houses of correction, it is among other things enacted, That whereas there are sometimes persons who by lunacy or otherwise are furiously mad, or are so far disordered in their senses that they may be dangerous to be permitted to go abroad, it shall and may be lawful for any two or more justices

Be it enacted, That in case there shall be a lunatic asylum established under the directions of this act for the county or district of any county within which the parish to which any lunatic or mad person, apprehended by virtue of the above recited act, belongs, shall be situated, then such justices of the peace who shall by virtue of the above recited act issue any warrant for the confinement of such lunatic or mad person, shall in the body of such warrant so issued by them, direct and order that such lunatic or mad person shall be confined in such lunatic asylum and not elsewhere; but if no such lunatic asylum shall have been established, then and in such case it shall and may be lawful for such justices, if they think fit, to order and direct by such warrant that such lunatic or mad person shall be confined in any house, duly licensed for the reception of lunatics under the authority of an act passed in the fourteenth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An act for regulating mad-houses, although such house may not be situated within the county where the parish to which such lunatic or mad person belongs, shall lie.

“XX. And whereas it sometimes happens, that by reason of the lunacy and madness of such persons the place of their legal settlement cannot be ascertained:” Be it enacted, That in case the place of the last legal settlement of any lunatic or mad person, apprehended by virtue of the above recited act, cannot be ascertained, then the justices who shall have caused such person to be apprehended shall by their said warrant direct such person to be confined in the lunatic asylum for the county or district of united counties within which such person shall have been apprehended, if any such asylum shall have been established, and not elsewhere: or if no such asylum shall have been established, in some house duly licensed for the reception of lunatics as aforesaid, or in some other secure place as directed by the said recited act; and if such person have not an estate to pay and satisfy the reasonable charges of removing, and of keeping, maintaining, and curing such person under the authority of the said recited act, then such charges shall be satisfied and paid by the treasurer of the county within which such person shall be apprehended, out of the county rates, by order of two justices to him directed for that purpose.

XXI. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That nothing in this act contained shall extend or be construed to extend to render any lunatic asylum which may be provided under the authority of this act for the use of any county or united counties liable to the reception of lunatics or insane persons who may be chargeable to or apprehended in any city, town, precinct, parish, township, or place situate within the limits of such county or united counties, but claiming exemption, and being exempt from contributing to the county rate, unless such city, town, pre-

Encouraging lunatic asylums, by establishing voluntary contributions.

XXII. "And whereas in many parts of this kingdom lunatic asylums have been built and established, and others may hereafter be built and established, by voluntary contribution, for the reception and care of lunatics of all descriptions, contributing to the general charge of maintenance, medicines, and care, by certain weekly payments, according to the pecuniary circumstances of the parties respectively; or of their immediate connections, the excess of payments of the more affluent being applied to relieve and lower the payments of persons in more limited circumstances: And whereas it is fit and expedient to support and encourage such laudable institutions, and it may be of great advantage that asylums intended by this act to be erected for pauper lunatics should be united to or connected with such institutions by voluntary subscription;" Be it enacted, That at any meeting of the justices of the peace to be held as aforesaid in any county for the purpose of considering and determining on the expediency and propriety of providing a lunatic asylum or house of reception for lunatics of other insane persons, if it shall appear to the major part of the justices so assembled, that it would be expedient to unite and join with any lunatic asylum so built and established by voluntary contribution, or so intended to be built and established, it shall be lawful for the justices so assembled to appoint a committee (in manner hereinbefore directed to be appointed to treat with any adjoining county or counties) to treat with and enter into and subscribe an agreement with a committee of governors, directors, or subscribers to such voluntary institution, such committee being authorized and appointed by a majority of such subscribers, to be called by public advertisement as aforesaid for the express purpose of making such appointment, and all provisions hereinbefore directed in regard to counties treating and agreeing with each other, shall be adhered to and be effectual, so far as the same will apply, or as the different circumstances of the two cases will admit; and the number of the committee of directors, governors, or subscribers, appointed by the subscribers, shall not exceed the number of the committee of justices justices to be appointed by the justices of the peace on the part of the county; and such committee of subscribers, or the major part of them, shall be competent to enter into and subscribe any agreement, to all intents and purposes, as fully and effectually as any committee appointed under this act on the part of any county uniting to treat with any other county so uniting: Provided always, no agreement so made by any committee of justices shall be valid and have force on the part of the county, until the same shall have been submitted to and approved by the majority of the justices of the peace of the county assembled at the next ensuing general quarter sessions which shall be held after such agreement shall have been entered into.

XXIII. And be it further enacted, That all lunatics, insane persons, or dangerous idiots so committed to such asylum, shall be safely kept, and that no such person shall be suffered to quit the said asylum or to be at large until the visiting justices or the greater part of them, shall order the discharge of such person, and shall signify the same in writing under their hands and seals; and that if any officer, servant, or assistant in such asylum shall notwithstanding, through neglect or connivance, permit such person in any case to escape and be at large without such order as aforesaid, he or she shall for every such offence forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding ten pounds, nor less than forty shillings, to be recovered by distress and sale of the offender's goods and chattels, by warrant under the hands and seals of any two justices of the peace acting for the county within which such asylum shall be situated (which warrant such justices are hereby required to grant, upon the confession of the party, or upon the information of any witness or witnesses upon oath (which oath such justices are hereby empowered to administer); and the said penalty, after the charges of recovering the same shall be deducted, shall be paid one moiety to the informer, and the other moiety to the treasurer of the said asylum, to be applied to the use of the same.

XXV. And be it further enacted, That such visiting justices may from time to time order all such repairs, or other expences as may be necessary for such lunatic asylums, and shall direct the same to be paid by an order upon the county treasurer, where such asylum shall be established by one county only, or shall apportion the same as aforementioned upon each county where such asylum is established for a district of united counties, and shall make an order upon the treasurer of each of the said united counties for the payment of the proportion to be paid by such county, and that such county treasurer shall immediately discharge the same out of any money which may then be in his hands, under the penalty of double such sum as he shall be directed to pay, to be recovered from him for the benefit of such asylum by action in any of His Majesty's courts at Westminster by the treasurer of the said asylum.

49 Geo. III. c. 68. Amending

An Act to explain and amend the Law of Bastardy, so far as relates to Indemnifying Parishes in respect thereof. [3d June 1809.]

"WHEREAS the provisions of an act made in the eighteenth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, concerning bastards begotten and born out of lawful matrimony, are found to be inadequate to the purposes of indemnifying nifying parishes against the charges and expences incurred by the apprehending and securing the reputed father, and also by the obtaining the order of filiation: And whereas it is expedient that such charges and expences should be borne and discharged by the adjudged reputed father of such bastard child or children, at the discretion of the justices by whom such adjudication shall be made, either in the court of quarter sessions or otherwise, not exceeding the amount herein-after mentioned;" Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That every person who shall hereafter be adjudged to be the reputed father of any bastard child or children, shall be chargeable with and liable to the payment of all reasonable charges and expences incident to the birth of such bastard child or children, and also to the payment of the reasonable costs of apprehending and securing such reputed father, and also to the payment of the costs of the order of filiation, such costs of apprehending and securing the reputed father, and of the order of filiation, not to exceed the sum of ten pounds; and all such charges, expences, and costs, shall be duly and respectively ascertained on oath before the justices of the peace or the court of quarter sessions making such order of filiation, which oath such justices or court are hereby respectively empowered to administer.

Reputed fathers of bastard children shall be chargeable with the expences incident to the birth, with the costs of apprehending and of the order of filiation.

II. And be it further enacted, That if any single woman shall declare herself to be with child, and that such child is likely to be born a bastard and to be chargeable to any parish, township, or extra-parochial place, and shall, in an examination to be taken in writing upon oath before any justice of the peace of any county, riding, division, city, liberty, or town corporate wherein such parish, township, or place shall lie, charge any person with having gotten her with child, it shall be lawful to and for such justice, upon application made to him by the overseer of the poor of such parish or township, or by any substantial householder of such extra-parochial place, to issue out his warrant for the immediate apprehending of such person so charged as aforesaid, and for bringing him before such justice, or before any other justice of the peace of such county, riding, division, liberty, liberty, or town corporate; and the justice before whom such person shall be brought, having authority in this behalf, is hereby authorized and required to commit the person so charged as aforesaid to the common gaol or house of correction of such county, riding, division, liberty, or town corporate, unless he shall give security to indemnify such parish or place, or shall enter into a recognizance with sufficient surety or sureties upon condition to appear at the next general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace to be holden for such county, riding, division, city, liberty, or town corporate, to abide and perform such order or orders as shall then be made in pursuance of the said act of the eighteenth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, unless one such justice as aforesaid, shall have certified in writing under his hand to such general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace, that it had been proved before him upon the oath of one credible witness, that such single woman had not been then delivered, or had been delivered within one month only previous to the day on which such general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace shall be holden, or unless two justices of the peace of such county, riding, division, city, liberty, or town corporate, shall have certified in writing under their hands to the next, or where such woman shall not have been delivered as aforesaid, then to the immediately subsequent general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace, that an order of filiation had been already made on the person so charged, or that such order was not then requisite to be made, on account of the death of the child born a bastard, or for other like sufficient reason; in each of which cases firstly before mentioned, it shall be lawful for the justices assembled at such general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace, to respice such recognizance to the then next general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace to be holden for such county, riding, division, city, or town corporate, without requiring the personal attendance of the putative father so bound, or of that of his surety or sureties, and in either of the said two last mentioned cases it shall be lawful for the justices assembled as aforesaid wholly to discharge such recognizance.

For maintenance of bastard children.

“III. And whereas parishes are often put to great expence in enforcing the performance of orders of maintenance made on the filiation of bastard children;" He it therefore further enacted, That if any reputed father or any mother of such bastard child or children on whom any order of filiation or maintenance of such child or children, shall have been made by the court of quarter sessions, or which shall have been made by two justices of the peace and confirmed by the court of quarter sessions, or against which no appeal shall have been made to the court of quarter sessions, shall neglect or refuse to pay any sum or sums of money which he or she shall have been ordered to pay towards the maintenance or other sustentation for the relief of any such bastard child or children by any such order, it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace of the county, riding, division, city, liberty or town corporate in which such reputed father or such mother shall happen to be, and the said justice is hereby required upon complaint made to him by any one of the overseers of the poor of any parish, township, or place liable to the maintenance or support of such bastard child or children, or where such bastard child or children shall then be, and upon proof on oath of such order for the payment of such sum or sums of money being unpaid, and of a demand of such payment having been made, and a refusal to pay the same, or that such reputed father or such mother hath left his or her usual place of abode, and hath avoided a demand thereof being made by such overseer, to issue his warrant to apprehend such reputed father or such mother, and to bring him or her before such justice or any other justice of the peace of the same county, riding, division, city, liberty, or town corporate, to answer such complaint; and if such reputed father or such mother shall not pay such sum or sums of money as shall appear to the said justice before whom such reputed father or such mother shall be brought to be due and unpaid, or shall not shew to such justice some reasonable and sufficient cause for not so doing, it shall be lawful for such justice, and the said justice is hereby required to commit such reputed father or such mother to the publick house of correction or common gaol of the said county, to be there kept to hard labour for the space of three months, unless such reputed father or such mother shall, before the expiration of the said three months, pay or cause to be paid to one of the overseers of the poor of the parish, township, or place on whose behalf such complaint as aforesaid was made, the said said sum or sums of money so due and unpaid as aforesaid, and so from time to time and as often as such reputed father or such mother shall in manner aforesaid neglect or refuse to pay any other sum or sums of money that shall afterwards become due by virtue of and under such order after the expiration of or discharge from any such former imprisonment as aforesaid.

V. Provided also, and be it further enacted, That any person or persons who shall think himself, herself, or themselves aggrieved by any order made by such justices as aforesaid under the provisions of this act, and not originating in the quarter sessions, may appeal to the next general quarter sessions of the peace to be holden for the county where such order shall be made, on giving notice to such justices or to one of them, and also to the church-wardens and overseers of the poor of the parish on whose behalf such order shall have been made, or to one of them, ten clear days before such general quarter sessions of the peace at which such appeal shall be made, of his, her, or their intention of bringing such appeal, and of the cause and matter thereof, and entering into a recognizance within three days after such notice before some justice of the peace for such county, with sufficient surety conditioned to try such appeal, and abide the judgment and order of, and pay such costs as shall be awarded by the justices at such quarter sessions, which said justices at their said sessions, upon proof of such notice being given, and of entering into such recognizance as aforesaid, shall and they are hereby required to proceed in, hear, and determine the causes and matters of all such appeals, and shall give such relief and costs to the parties as feeling as appealed against as they in their discretion shall judge proper; and such judgments and orders therein made shall be final, binding, and conclusive to all parties concerned, and to all intents and purposes whatsoever.

VI. And be it further enacted, That so much of an act passed in the sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled, An Act for the relief of parish and other places from such charges as may arise from bastard children born within the same, as authorizes the justice or justices, before whom the reputed father of a bastard child shall be brought, in cases where the woman has not been delivered to commit such reputed father to the common gaol or house of correction, unless he shall give security to indemnify the parish or place, or shall enter into a recognizance with sufficient surety upon condition to appear at the next general quarter sessions or general sessions of the peace, shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

WHEREAS, by an Act passed in the thirty-fifth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, An act to prevent the removal of poor persons until they shall become actually chargeable, it is amongst other things enacted, that in case any poor person shall be brought before any Justice or justices of the peace for the purpose of being removed from the place where he or she is inhabiting or sojourning, by virtue of any order of removal, or of being passed by virtue of any vagrant pass, and it shall appear to the said justice or justices that such poor person is unable to travel by reason of sickness or other infirmity, or that it would be dangerous for him or her so to do, the justice or justices making such order of removal or granting such vagrant pass, are required and authorised to suspend the execution of the same until they are satisfied that it may safely be executed without danger to any person who is the subject thereof, and that the charges proved upon oath to have been incurred by such suspension of any order of removal may by the said justices be directed to be paid by the churchwardens and overseers of the parish or place to which such poor person is ordered to be removed, in case any removal shall take place, or in case of the death of such poor person before the execution of such order: and by the same act it is further enacted, that in case of an appeal against any order for the payment of such charges, if the court of quarter sessions shall be of opinion that the sum so awarded be more than of right ought to have been directed to be paid, such court may and is thereby directed to strike out the sum contained in the said order, and insert the sum which in the judgment of such court ought to be paid; and in every such case the court of quarter sessions shall direct that the said order so amended shall be carried into execution by the said justices by whom the order was originally made, or either of them, or in case of the death of either of them, by such other justice or justices as the court shall direct: And whereas it is expedient that the power of putting an end to the suspensions of any such order of removal or pass, and of executing the several or other authorities aforesaid, should not be confined to the order of the justice or justices making such order or pass: May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted, and be enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this act, in all cases where the execution of any order of removal or of any vagrant-pass shall be hereafter suspended by virtue of the said recited act, it shall be lawful for any other justice or justices of the peace of the county or other jurisdiction within which such removal or pass shall be made, to direct and order that the same shall be executed, and to direct the charges to be incurred as aforesaid to be paid, and to carry into execution any such amended order as aforesaid, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as the said respective powers and authorities can or may be executed by the said justices who shall make any such order of removal, or by the justice who shall grant any such pass as aforesaid.

II. And be it further enacted, That every widow or wife of any soldier to whom any such certificate shall have been delivered, as is directed by the said recited act or this act, shall forthwith take the same to some justice of the peace, or magistrate, who shall make out a route and fill up and give a certificate specifying the place to which such widow or wife and family is going; specifying the number of children; and it shall be lawful for such justice of the peace or magistrate, in lieu and instead of the rate of allowance di-should be sent quarterly, out of every county or place corporate, for the relief of the poor prisoners of the King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons, so as there were sent out of every county yearly twenty shillings at the least to each of the said prisons of the King's Bench and Marshalsea; to be collected in manner therein expressed, and to be paid over to the lord chief justice of England and knight marshal for the time being, equally to be divided between them to the use aforesaid, or in default of the said chief justice, to the next ancientest justice of the King's Bench; and by the same act it was directed, that all surplusage of money which should remain in the stock of any county, should, by the discretion of the justices of the peace in their quarter sessions, be bestowed for the relief of the poor hospitals in that county, and for other charitable purposes: and whereas an act was made in the eleventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled An act for the more effectually securing the payment of certain sums of money directed by an act made in the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, intituled 'An act for the relief of the poor,' to be paid by the respective treasurers in every county in England or Wales for the relief of the prisoners of the King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons: And whereas, by an act made in the twelfth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled An act for the more easy assessing, collecting, and levying of county rates; so much of the said recited act of the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, as related to the method of raising money for the relief of the King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons, was repealed; and such sums as had been usually paid to the said King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons, were directed to be paid out of the monies arising by virtue of the said act now in recital, at such times and in such manner as was prescribed in and by the said act of the eleventh year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, and whereas the sums of money provided and secured to be paid by the aforesaid acts are not sufficient for the relief of the poor prisoners confined in the said King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons: and whereas no adequate relief has been provided for the poor prisoners confined in the Fleet prison: And whereas it is expedient that the provisions contained in the said acts of the forty-third of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and the twelfth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, so far as the same respectively regard the relief of the poor prisoners in the said King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons, and also the provisions contained in the said act of the eleventh year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, should be repealed, and that sufficient relief should be provided and secured for the poor prisoners confined in the King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons, and also for the poor prisoners confined in the said Fleet prison: and whereas Bethlem Hospital is a charity for the reception and cure of lunatics and distracted persons from all parts of the kingdom, and from His Majesty's fleets and armies; and any surplus which shall remain of the monies provided by this act, after relieving the poor prisoners in the said prisons, may with great propriety be bestowed toward the relief of the said hospital: May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this act, the said acts of the forty-third year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and the twelfth year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, and all and every the clauses, powers, provisions, matters, and things therein respectively contained, so far as the same relate or apply to the yearly sums provided for the relief of the poor prisoners confined in the King's Bench and Marshalsea prisons, and also the said act of the eleventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, and all and every the clauses, powers, provisions, matters, and things therein contained, shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

Certain provisions of act of 43 Eliz. and 12 G. 2. relating to prisoners, repealed.
